Soviet Spurns West Note On Berlin Travel

Says East German Regime Has Right To Set Regulations

BERLIN (AP)—In a note assailing Western troop movements to Berlin, the Soviet Union has told the West that the Communist East German regime has the right to regulate foreign travel to East Berlin.

Rejecting an Aug. 26 note from the U.S., British and French ambassadors to West Germany protesting the sealing of the border in divided Berlin, the Soviets told the ambassadors Monday to take their complaints to the East German regime.

One major aim of Premier Khrushchev's pressure on Berlin is to force Western recognition of East Germany. The Western powers regard the East German regime as a Soviet puppet.

Mikhail Pervukhin, Soviet ambassador to East Germany, complained in his note that the Western powers had brought troop reinforcements to Berlin and had posted soldiers on West Berlin's border.

Pervukhin declared such troop movements could encourage "West Berlin's fascist and revenge-seeking elements" and this could result in serious consequences.

Foreigners now are admitted to East Berlin but Pervukhin's note raised the possibility that they soon would be barred. Foreigners may cross into East Berlin on subway and elevated trains or on foot and by car at a special gate at the corner of Friedrichstrasse and Zimmerstrasse.

Pervukhin's letter to U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling was published Monday night by the East German news agency ADN.

The Soviet ambassador said: "Visits by citizens of foreign states to the (East) German Democratic Republic, known as an independent sovereign state, and to its capital are regulated by the government of the G.D.R. If you have any wishes in this connection you must take them up with the authorities of the G.D.R."

In his reference to foreigners, Pervukhin did not distinguish between civilians and troops. In their military dealings, the Western Allies have so far avoided formal contact with East German officials.

Ex-Sen, Green, 93, Reported 'Critical'

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The condition of former U.S. Sen. Theodore Francis Green, 93, was described as critical today at Jane Brown Hospital.

Green, oldest man ever to serve in the Senate, retired early this year after 23 years there.

He has been a hospital patient with a heart block since last Friday.

Glover Heads Grand Jury For Hancock

Irel E. Glover of 3rd Ave., New Cumberland, was chosen foreman of a 15-member Grand Jury panel that convened this morning in Hancock County Circuit Court for the September term.

He is employed in the 54-inch strip mill at the Weirton Steel Co. The panel retired at 10 a. m. to hear evidence by Pros. Atty. Floyd R. Tarr, who is seeking 11 indictments against six defendants.

Judge Ralph E. Pryor charged the panel before it began its investigation. The 1st Judicial Circuit jurist cited the significance of Grand Jury duty and explained its origin in a 10-minute charge.

Judge Pryor did not ask for any special investigations.

Serving on the panel are Sam McAvoy, Paul W. Baxter, Lester A. Shaw, Alvin Clutter and Edith M. Sayre, Grant District; Glover, Nick Tunanidis, Donald R. Humes and Warren M. Chamberlain, Clay District; and Florian Haber, Ruby Elmore, Hardie Perkins, Pauline Kondik, Joe Blaszczak, and Serrini Martini, Butler District.

Ellen Connovich of Weirton was excused from duty because of illness.

Parole Hearing Slated For Ex-Officer In Pen

A parole hearing has been slated Nov. 1 for Ira Cunningham, onetime city police officer who is serving a 1-5 year term at the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus for attempting to bribe a juror.

The hearing will be held by the Pardons and Parole Board at Columbus, according to information received Monday by County Prosecutor William Brokaw.

Cunningham, 54, was taken to the penitentiary Feb. 1 to serve the term for attempted bribery, which stemmed from a 1958 burglary trial for the former officer and Jerry Raimond, one time special officer.

Cunningham was convicted of the bribery charge in 1959. He was one of seven officers and special officers indicted in 1956 for a series of burglaries.

Cooler Temperature Will Follow Showers

Cooler temperatures are heading for the East Liverpool area apparently part of the atmospheric disturbances created by Hurricane Carla off the gulf.

The dip in the mercury will be accompanied by scattered showers or thundershowers tonight and Wednesday.

A high of 78 to 84 is forecast today for this section with a low of 56 to 62 tonight. The downpour had a low of 67 this morning.

A condition of air disturbances out of the south colliding with a cool air mass coming down from Canada had not been expected before Thursday, according to a long-range forecast, but apparently it is arriving earlier.

Board Picks Library Aide For Midland

Mrs. E. M. Wallover Resigns And Louis Glumac Gets Post

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening accepted the resignation of Mrs. E. M. Wallover as a member of the Carnegie Board of Trustees and appointed Louis Glumac to fill her unexpired term.

The resignation and appointment were recommended by the library's trustees. Glumac, an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Midland, resides in Hillcrest Manor. His wife is a nurse in Midland schools.

A member of the Lions Club, Glumac is a native of Midland and a 1929 graduate of Lincoln High School.

The board will send a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Wallover.

Mrs. Wallover and her husband, Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, who resided 41 years in Midland, moved today to an apartment in Beaver. Supt. Ralph H. Jewell commented that the school has received a report from the state auditing committee which has been discussed by board members. It was ordered accepted and filed.

On behalf of Maurice Newman, finance chairman who was absent, Leslie B. Roach presented two motions which the board approved.

One was for the transfers of $50,000 from the general account to the payroll account at the First National Bank and $47,244 from the general account to the sinking fund No. 1 account at the Midland branch of the Beaver Trust Co.

The second transferred $19,900 from the general account to a new sinking fund account No. 2 at the Beaver Trust Co. branch. Jewell explained that the new account is to take care of the $140,000 borrowed earlier this year.

The board approved purchase of a washer and dryer from the Beaver County Maytag Store of New Brighton, costing $400 under a school plan which calls for free replacement and service each year.

The firm offered both for school ownership at $351. Green's Television of Midland offered both for $324.42 but had no school plan. Avery's Television of Beaver offered both for $510 under school ownership and $533 under a school plan but did not specify free replacement.

Death Toll Raised To 7 From Carla

Hurricane Sweeps Inland; Cuts Wide Path Of Destruction

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A tornado spawned by Hurricane Carla killed at least five persons and injured between 50 and 60 in this tide-pounded island city today.

The tornado raised the known death toll to seven as a result of Carla.

Texas Levee Breaks, 1,000 Homes Flooded

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The Civil Defense on its emergency network said today that a levee broke at Taylor Bayou today and said 1,000 homes have been flooded here.

Much of Galveston still was under water when the tornado—some called it a waterspout, a similar weather phenomenon—struck before dawn.

The tornado struck the courthouse, where 1,200 refugees huddled, and injured many with flying glass. A hole was torn in the courthouse.

One of the Galveston tornado victims was Mrs. Marie Harris, 57.

The main center of Carla by the time the twister struck was 20 miles north of Austin, or 170 miles north of the point where it hit land Monday afternoon.

At 8 a.m. winds still were up to 75 miles an hour near the center, while at Lufkin, halfway across the state in East Texas, gusts of 100 m.p.h. were recorded.

Galveston's St. Mary's Catholic Cathedral and an adjoining school suffered extensive roof damage. Several houses were demolished and police estimated that 30 to 50 cars were wrecked.

The Weather Bureau called for hurricane warnings to remain displayed from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Morgan City, La., as Carla's winds and tides continued to rake the area.

Winds up to 55 m.p.h. extended 150 miles from Carla's center, the bureau said.

The bureau said dangerously high tides remained over the coastal areas affected by the storm.

The agency also said locally heavy rains up to eight inches could be expected and cause floods.

Victoria, Tex., inland from the coast, reported 13 inches of rain. Known dead as a result of the storm included Able D. Threenton, 56, of Houston, who was killed by a storm-cut power line Monday night; and a 4-week-old child killed by a Carla-spawned tornado in Louisiana Sunday night.

The Weather Bureau also issued a tornado forecast for one or more twisters in a 120-mile-wide sector centering on a line from Galveston northward all the way across

The great storm, with maximum winds of 135 miles an hour, was the worst in the memory of long-time residents of Formosa.

None of the Americans in this city of 320,000 was injured, but some were isolated by flash floods.

Authorities estimated damage throughout the storm area in the millions of dollars.

Time Shift Set At Wellsville Schools Oct. 2

Board To Change But City To Remain On DST To Oct. 29

The Wellsville school system will return to standard time Monday, Oct. 2, although all outside activities such as football games will be operated under Daylight Saving Time, according to action taken by the Board of Education Monday night.

The action follows the program the board has followed for the past five or six years. The city will continue to operate under DST until midnight Oct. 29. This means the children will be going to school under one time, while their homes will follow another, for a total of 20 school days.

In taking the action, board members pointed out the danger to small children walking along the streets during the early morning hours and waiting along the highways in the rural sections for school buses.

The early morning darkness along with heavy fog creates a hazard, members pointed out.

In other action, the board hired Hugh Brian as a high school English teacher and heard a report from Supt. S. E. Daw on the use of a language laboratory. Brian, a graduate of St. Francis College, also will serve as sponsor of the class yearbook.

Daw said he had checked with the Electronics Products & Equipment Co. of Cleveland and the Dictaphone Co. on prices and operation of their units.

The Cleveland firm offered an operating console and six booth units for $1,860 or $2,520 if the console is large enough for an entire class while the Dictaphone firm bid $1,994.76 for a console and six booths.

By use of the electronic equipment, the teacher can direct special work to class members by using records or tape recordings. Daw said he would make a recommendation after he studies the operations further. If purchased, the units are covered by a federal government program whereby the school is reimbursed 50 per cent of the cost.

Daw reported the enrollment for the year is about the same as last year. He said the seventh and eighth grade classes are heavy. He also reported 50 in the

Strike Spread Seen

UAW, GM Reach Accord On Issue

DETROIT (AP)—The issue that triggered a snowballing plant-by-plant strike against General Motors Corp. by the United Auto Workers Union was settled overnight.

When agreement came, 92 GM plants were shut across the nation and 255,005 men were idle, with indications that the remainder of GM's 129 plants and 350,000 production workers would be idled in a matter of days, if not hours.

The No. 1 issue on which local-level strikes started erupting Monday was the amount of relief time afforded assembly and production line workers.

An all-night bargaining session Sunday failed to resolve the dispute and carried new contract negotiations past Monday's 10 a. m. strike deadline.

But within four hours after a fresh start Monday night agreement was reached on a formula reportedly suggested by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted settlement of the relief time issue would materially speed wrapping up of a new three-year contract between his union and the world's largest automaker. They have agreed on an economic package which the union estimates is worth 12.04 cents hourly in take-home pay.

Several issues left dangling at the national level included: production standards (required work per hour), the scheduling of overtime for employed men when some employees are on layoff, the time union representatives may spend in the processing of grievances on company-paid time, and work done by foremen which the union insists should be done by hourly workers.

Still dangling at the local level were 11,811 demands ranging from factory air-conditioning and air cushions for truck drivers to automatic permission to take time off for deer hunting.

Reuther postponed from 10 a. m. Wednesday to 1 p. m. Thursday a scheduled meeting of the UAW's 280-member General Motors Conference, which has authority to wrap up—local issues and all—a new contract. The UAW will demand the contract be met by other members of the Big Three—Ford and Chrysler.

May Have Reopened Issue

Ike Declares He Didn't Map Cuba Invasion Plan

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower may have started a new round of post mortems on the Cuban invasion by declaring that his outgoing administration had not drawn up an invasion plan.

Ever since the invasion was crushed at the Bay of Pigs last spring, it has been reported that President Kennedy inherited a detailed invasion plan with many armed units poised throughout the Caribbean area. All that remained for Kennedy, these reports said, was to give the go ahead signal.

But Eisenhower told a group of 38 freshman Republican congressmen Monday, "We had done nothing except to recognize that these Cuban refugees had a great desire to go back to Cuba, so we began organizing them and giving them weapons and training them. But beyond that we could not go, because at that time there was no recognized leader among the (refugee) Cubans."

He added, "I was not a consultant or adviser to the (Kennedy) administration in any way, of course."

A reporter went back to the question later, and Eisenhower amplified, "In March, 1960, we had a little meeting in my office as to whether to go ahead and train these people. We set up a little group to keep in touch. It was never any more than that."

The Central Intelligence Agency has been widely credited, without contradiction, with starting to line up the ill-fated invasion as much as a year before the landing.

Officials Set To Confer On Raid Charges

Printing Concern's Case May Be Aired By Grand Jurors

Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy was slated to confer today with John Gleason, assistant attorney general, concerning filing of charges against the Lisbon Salesbook Co., which state officers raided last week and seized large quantities of alleged numbers slip books printed there.

McElroy and Gleason, along with County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and other officers, hit the Maple St. firm which the attorney general claimed was the third largest printer of "bug books" in the nation.

Brokaw has indicated he will present the case to the September Grand Jury, convening today, under the new state anti-gambling laws.

However, he is awaiting further information from McElroy concerning specific charges and data in relation to the case.

McElroy said Monday he plans early conferences with county officials on action to padlock the firm, owned by Martin and Isadore Sufrin of Pittsburgh. McElroy said the conference on padlock action with Brokaw probably will be set at the meeting today with Gleason.

A 15-member panel of Grand Jurors was selected this morning to begin study of indictments sought in criminal cases. It is expected to report by Friday.

Jury Finally Seated For Trial In Murder

BEAVER — A jury finally was picked this morning for the trial of Ezra Lowe, 31, of Aliquippa on a charge of murder.

A panel of 76 persons was called Monday and only 11 were picked as jurors since about 90 per cent expressed an objection to capital punishment.

The judge ordered the sheriff to bring in a special panel listed for emergencies.

Lowe is charged in the fatal shooting of Fred Wallace, 29, of Aliquippa, a former boxer, May 28.

Lowe is the father of six children.

3 Approved For Beaver Local Posts

Two newly-hired Beaver Local School District teachers and a new cook at Elkton School were approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The board approved hiring of Harry Criss of Route 7 as an industrial arts instructor at the high school and Lloyd Stockdale of East Liverpool as a science teacher at the Public School.

The board also employed Mrs. Veronica Wolski of West Point as a cook at Elkton, replacing Mrs. Elsie Huston who was granted a leave of absence. The board also granted a leave, effective in December, for Harry West, English instructor at the high school who plans to complete work on a master's degree at Kent State University.

The board acknowledged a gift of $255 from the Beaver Rural Garden Club to pay for shrubbery to be installed about the high school.

Discussion was held on insurance for the new lighting system at the high school football field, and further information is to be supplied at the next meeting.

The board approved attendance of Howard Johnson of near Negley at the School for the Deaf at Youngstown.

Some minor bus transportation problems were reviewed, including inaccessibility of some areas to buses, and further study is to be made.

A request from a Church of Christ for use of the high school for a district youth conference banquet was discussed, and the board decided the event could be held at the Public School in order to reduce wear of the high school gymnasium floor.

Next meeting is slated Oct. 9.

New Waterford Aspirant Picked By Committee

The name of Eugene H. Walton, an employee of the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. at East Palestine, was certified today to the County Election Board as a candidate for the New Waterford Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, replacing Frank Colella, a candidate for re-election, who died suddenly Sept. 2.

Walton was named for the Nov. 7 ballot vacancy by a five-member nominating committee which Mr. Colella named on his nominating petition when filing for a new term. Under state law, the committee had the right to name a new candidate in the event of Mr. Colella's death.

The nominating committee was comprised of Joseph Taylor, Bert Keck, Lois Merriman, Jessie McCune and Esther Bretz.

Officials indicated Walton also will be named as interim appointee on the board, filling Mr. Colella's place until his successor is elected in November and qualifies.

The committee's certification will permit the Election Board to go ahead with printing of New Waterford ballots, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, pointed out. While awaiting a certification, it had instructed the printing contractor to hold up work on the village ballot.

Holy Name Society Plans Sports Events

Plans for a fall sports program were discussed at a meeting of the Holy Name Society of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church Monday night at the Parochial School.

Tad DiLoreto will be in charge of the program.

Eddie Finney was elected secretary, succeeding Mentor McVey, who resigned.

The Rev. Fr. Carl A. Nicolay discussed a fall bazaar for the parish, Thomas Meadows, president, presided.

City Motorist Posts Bond On 3 Charges

Joseph J. Reese, 30, of East Liverpool R.D. 2 was cited on three traffic counts by Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens this morning at 2:40, and posted a total of $61.50 for a hearing Monday before Chester Mayor Roy Collins.

Reese posted $30.50 for improper registration, and $15.50 each for failure to halt for a traffic signal at Carolina Ave. and 2nd St. and speeding 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Will Spend $8 Billion

'Interconnection' Set By Power Companies

NEW YORK (Special) — The nation's investor-owned electric utility companies plan to spend approximately $8 billion for new power transmission facilities through 1970, it was reported Monday by Philip A. Fieger, president of the Edison Electric Institute and chairman and president of the Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh.

With a present investment of $6.7 billion in transmission, the companies "have made great strides in interconnecting electric power plants throughout the country," Fieger said. "Nearly all the electric power systems east of the Rocky Mountains, including 100 companies in 32 states, are now interconnected. West of the Rockies, interconnected service has been a fact for several years — both in the Pacific Northwest and the Southwest."

Complete interconnection of the nation's power systems, the next step in the evolution of power supply in this country, is under way, he stated. "By 1970 we expect all the major power systems to be capable of operating on an interconnected basis throughout the United States."

AEP System Joins In Expansion Plans

CANTON (Special) — A blueprint for continuing growth in the next decade was unveiled today by the American Electric Power System.

It revealed plans for the operation by 1970 of a vast network of transmission lines totaling 15,000 miles to maintain the assured delivery of an abundance of electric power in the seven-state territory served by the AEP System. The Ohio Power Co. is part of the system.

A. N. Prentice, vice president and general manager of Ohio Power, disclosed that during the period 1961-70 the AEP System will build and place in operation an additional 4,500 miles of new transmission lines. He estimated that total expenditures for these lines, together with the substation and switching facilities required to operate and protect them, will approach a quarter-billion dollars.

"Ohio Power's share of this unprecedented transmission construction program will total 1,700 miles of new line at a cost of an estimated $82 million," Prentice said. "And this does not include additional thousands of miles of lower-voltage distribution lines and stations to be built during this same period and involving the expenditure of additional tens of millions of dollars," he added.

Church Men Set Wellsville Dinner

A kick-off dinner marking the beginning of the 1961-62 church year will be held Monday at 6 p.m. by the United Presbyterian Men's Organization at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville.

The Rev. Loren W. Fowler of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church at Canton will be guest speaker. His topic will be "The Place of Men in the Life of the Church."

One of the projects for the year is providing inspirational programs for the men, drawing speakers from professional and semi-professional men. The subjects will be related to the place men have in the life of the church.

Other projects include completing a full nine-month program and giving financial support to the organization on a national level.

The new officers, elected at the final meeting in the spring, are Jerry Russell, president; Emmett Pelley, vice president; William Ferguson, secretary, and Harry Myers, treasurer.

Georgetown Council To Join County Event

Georgetown Borough Council made plans Monday evening to be represented at a meeting Sept. 20 to form a Beaver County Boroughs Association.

The meeting will be held in Judge Morgan Sohn's courtroom at the Courthouse at Beaver at 8 p.m. Burgess William Cromer, Tony Decapio, Council president, and a couple of councilmen plan to attend. All boroughs have been asked to send representatives.

Council ordered speed and stop signs for side streets which enter Market St., the main street. They are expected to be put up soon.

Bills were ordered paid. Decapio presided. Next meeting is Oct. 2 in the school hall.

Driver Cited After Truck Strikes Auto

The driver for a wholesale grocery firm was cited by police Monday noon after his truck crashed into the rear of a Calcutta area woman's car halted behind a stopped school bus on St. Clair Ave.

Richard Lee Scott, 28, of 422 W. 5th St. was charged with failing to stop in the assured clear distance after his Riggs Co. truck was involved in the rear-end collision with a stopped 1961 sedan operated by Mrs. Eula J. Holt, 41, of Berkshire Rd.

Scott was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Since the mishap involved a school bus indirectly, the judge lectured Scott on inattention while driving. He told the trucker his operator's permit will be suspended if he appears again on a traffic citation.

Scott told police he was following Mrs. Holt's car and as he got closer to it realized that she had stopped behind the school bus which was discharging passengers.

He said he applied his brakes and attempted to turn off St. Clair, but was unable to avoid the crash.

Witnesses to the accident were Mrs. Walter Simms, 2738 St. Clair Ave. and Linda Ronshausen, 17, of 3160 Watterson Ave.

Cars operated by two women drivers were damaged in a collision early yesterday afternoon at E. 4th and Washington Sts.

The collision involved cars operated by Gladys M. Means, 37, of the Y. & O. Rd., headed south on Washington St., and Mrs. Edna Jones, 43, of 1997 Lisbon St., who was traveling east.

Police listed Joseph Kittle, 1038 Edgewood Ave., and Delbert Patterson of Toronto R.D. 2 as witnesses to the mishap.

Meanwhile, Ray W. Pennybaker, 36, of Calcutta told police his auto was damaged early today on St. Clair Ave., apparently as the result of striking a parked car.

Pennybaker said he was driving north on St. Clair when he heard a bump. Since he could not see anything which he had hit, he proceeded to his home, he related. Then he discovered the right side of his car was scratched, evidently as a result of striking the side of a parked auto, he said. Pennybaker reported the mishap to headquarters at 6:15 this morning.

School Board Fills 2 Posts

The Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education hired a new cafeteria employee and a substitute teacher for health and physical education classes at a meeting Monday evening.

The board met in South Side High School near Hookstown. It hired Mrs. Geraldine Swaney as a cafeteria employee after accepting the resignation of Mrs. Grace Campbell, a cook in the elementary cafeteria.

Mrs. Marjorie Geisel of Aliquippa was hired as a substitute girls health and physical education teacher.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said individual districts were reminded to file their auditing and financial reports for the fiscal year ending July 3.

The board awarded student insurance to Mutual of Omaha for individual students. It also took up individual adjustments of the salary schedule which need special action, particularly concerning new employees.

Thomas explained the elementary setup and method of grouping of primary grades for reading.

Concerning the new high school addition, to the cafeteria, he said it will present a problem since it will extend in front, requiring the driveway to be changed.

who was given a vote of thanks. The center-section has not been used for some time because it was deemed unsafe. The board voted to renew its membership in the Ohio High School Athletic Association under a new law which does not require annual renewal.

Earl Bake, president, reported he and Daw will attend a meeting of the Northeast Association of Boards of Education Friday, Sept. 22, at Canton.

Members discussed using their salaries for construction and furnishing a lounge for teachers at Garfield. The PTA will be asked to join in the project if it is acceptable. Members spend their salaries for projects on which regular school funds cannot be used.

In the past they have purchased band uniforms, furniture for lounges and provided ferns and potted plants for the stage at graduation exercises.

A lengthy discussion was held with William Ferrall, president, of the Band Parents on the issuance of band uniforms and who is directly responsible for the care of the uniforms. He was informed the band director is in charge of the uniforms although he can delegate the work to the Band Parents if he so desires.

Various other rules and regulations governing activities of the band were discussed.

Weather Bureau observers said only a few traces of Carla's power remained by the time it reached the Austin area in central Texas about 4 a.m.

Winds of 50 to 75 miles per hour continued in squalls near the vanishing storm center and gales continued in scattered squalls extending 150 miles outward.

On a motion by Edward Cilli, property chairman, the board approved purchase of about 2,500 bushels of lump coal for the 1st St. School from the John Radella Trucking & Excavation Co. of Midland at $8.65 per ton. The firm supplied the coal last year.

The other coal bid was that of the George Studen Co. of Midland, which also quoted $8.65.

The board ratified action of the property committee which had walks installed recently at the athletic field by the Rochester Coal Trucking & Contracting Co. at a cost of $990.

On recommendation of Jewell, the board approved purchase of a tachistoscope for remedial reading in the junior high school, costing $320. The elementary schools already have one.

Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary, was authorized to advertise for new light fixtures in five rooms of the high school and for toilet partitions, also for the high school.

Night classes for adults for the 1961-1962 year were approved on motion by John Shovlin, education chairman. He reported the new school enrollment is 663 elementary students, and 840 high school, totaling 1,503, an increase over the 1,470 of last year. The increase was noted mostly in the number of ninth graders, he said.

The board approved the admittance of Susan Ratkovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ratkovich of Midland Heights, to kindergarten after a recommendation by Jewell and a motion by Frank Alois.

Jewell said the girl is two months younger than the age set for kindergarten but testing by a psychologist showed her to have the mental ability of a 6-year-old. She is about 4 years and 8 months old.

A letter was read from educational television station WQED of Pittsburgh, thanking Jewell and the board for recent payments.

Samuel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported that a license plate should be obtained for the school tractor. Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, said they are free to the school.

Rosatone also suggested that a set of chains be purchased for the tractor for use in heavy snow. James Morrison, president, asked him to obtain prices.

Morrison and the board congratulated Rosatone, the janitorial staff and the property committee for a "good job" on cleaning the schools this summer.

A request of the Hot Stove League was approved for its football teams to play prior to regular night games Friday and Oct. 6 with the admittance of players to be handled by the principal's office. Shovlin made the motion, which also granted the players use of the athletic field on Saturday mornings for practice.

Jewell reminded board members of the Midland Education Association's "get - acquainted" picnic to which they and their wives have been invited Wednesday evening at Crucible Park. Dinner will be at 6:30 and there will be games, he said. Association members met with the board afterwards.

Shovlin, on behalf of the American Legion Post 481, reported the post plans to donate a book to the library.

General bills in the amount of $20,724.09 were approved along with interim ordered placed by Jewell amounting to $621.26, and a book list, amounting to $173.98.

Receipts of $75.61 were accepted and voted to proper account.

Mrs. Eldamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $457,497.98 as of Aug. 31. Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, reported $457,072 deposited during August. Face value was $466,390.11 and a $9,318.11 discount was allowed. The 1961 tax duplicate of $572,566.11 had a balance of $72,199.36 as of Aug. 31.

John Uccellini, board member, also attended as did Miss Margaret Hogan, elementary supervising principal.

Moral Positions In Steel

Decision-makers in the steel industry have been studying a letter from the White House word by word, to see what they can learn about President Kennedy's thinking on higher price for their products.

Like the late Calvin Coolidge's cryptic comment on the preacher's position on sin, the gist of the White House letter on the prospect of rising steel prices can be summed up like this: He's against it.

But passages in the presidential letter reveal more about John F. Kennedy's thinking than the bare fact of his opposition to price increases for steel.

He points out that the industry has been absorbing increases in employment costs since 1958. If steel's decision-makers were now to forego a price increase, declares the President, the industry "would enter collective bargaining negotiations next year with a record of three and a half years of price stability. It would clearly then be the turn of the labor representatives to limit wage demands to a level consistent with continued price stability. The moral position of the steel industry next spring—and its claim to the support of public opinion—will be strengthened by the exercise of price restraint now."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in this reasoning, tries to make it appear that forbearance by steel management now, when steel workers are about to cash in on an automatic increase provision in their current contract, would entitle the industry to union forbearance next year.

This shows astonishing naivete. The steel industry's past attempts to hold the line on prices have been coldly disregarded by union bargainers. They make no secret of their belief that they are interested only in as big a share as they can corner of the industry's productivity. They have shown no inclination to worry about inflation, or anything else, least of all the international balance of payments, which President Kennedy says he is worried about at this time.

THEY HAVE STUCK to what they call "bread-and-butter unionism," which means getting all they can get. This is the counterpart of the industry's own firm pursuit of profit-making and the government's pursuit of tax revenues.

There is no morality in these matters. If the steel industry holds the price line this year while its employees are claiming an automatic wage increase, that will cut no ice in 1962 contract negotiations.

The industry's "moral position" of 1961 will have no bearing on negotiations in 1962—and decision-makers in the steel industry must have been astonished to run across such an idea on White House stationery.

Have You Joined In The Appeal?

Have you written yet to your legislators in Washington asking their help in protection for the ceramic industry? If not, there's no time like the present.

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is sparking a drive during the month of September in a new effort to obtain higher tariffs or a quota system to assist the industry in its battle against the inroads of foreign competition.

The IBOP is directing its appeal primarily to union members. The campaign could go even further. Anyone who resides in a community which has a pottery or related industry should join in the attack. The more the merrier and the greater the possibility that some help may be forthcoming.

The story of the industry is widely known in the district—plants closing, work falling off in most cases and an over-all critical situation.

As the IBOP points out, your letters or telegrams needn't be long. Just to the point!

Depending on your place of residence, your appeals for greater tariff protection should be addressed to the following: Ohio — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th district; Sen. Frank

J. Lausche and Sen. Stephen M. Young; West Virginia, Rep. Arch A. Moore, Jr., 1st District, and Sen. Jennings Randolph and Sen. Robert C. Byrd, Pennsylvania, Rep. Frank M. Clark, 25th District, and Sen. Hugh Scott and Sen. Joseph S. Clark.

Appeals to representatives should be addressed to House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C., and to senators to Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

A Helping Hand

Kind deeds always have a welcome place in the hustle and bustle of everyday living.

Therefore, a "well done" to members of the East Liverpool Lions Club who saw to it that a blind hitch-hiker returned to his home in Texas by bus instead of being turned loose on the highway with but five cents in his pocket.

We don't know whether the eyes of Texas ever will be upon us, but we do know there is one resident of the Lone Star State who won't forget the generosity and kindness of a local service club.

Time is now for bluntness. It is not right to know only who our enemies are. It is not right to entreat with them while ignoring our friends who who put their life and guts on the firing line. Look far south of the border.

There, the friendship of hundreds of union chiefs and millions of workers—as well as sections of the armed forces—kept Brazil's vastness from being Castro-ized.

Twice in the past two weeks—though it has gone unnoticed here—secret Communist labor cadres, working with Joao "Jango" Goulart, tried to launch paralyzing general strikes. Twice Brazil's democratic labor movement stood off the Communists and their jet-travelers.

Twice the Goulart secret calls for mass walkouts fizzled. Twice only a handful of dockworkers in the port of Santos and a few suburban commuter trainmen answered the call. But 800 union leaders and their four million followers stayed on the job.

If they had not, Goulart, friend of N.S. Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung, would have won immediately. The army could not have kept the nation operating.

OUR LAND owes much to the various Brazilian Confederations of Labor (they do not have a central AFL-CIO type of organization).

Let's pick this story up at a moment last March when the then President Janio Quadros accused "Jango" Goulart of being a crook and of mismanaging retirement funds.

There was talk of impeaching "Jango". Suddenly, all went quiet on the Brazilian front. But not before Jango had threatened defiance and had warned he would stir the unions into strikes and wild street action.

Many believed Jango could do this. In the previous regime Jango had been vice president, but he also operated out of a top floor office in the Ministry of Labor. He was the Ministry's virtual boss. He therefore wielded power not quite understood by many Americans.

As the power in the labor ministry he controlled the various pension and welfare funds on which the unions depended.

With this power he bullied the labor people. He put Communists in office. He controlled the labor tribunals. Thus he could judge disputes and rule in favor of Communists.

He even helped to dump anti-Communists out of office and set up a Confederation of Airline and Maritime Transport for the Communists.

Thus when he threatened to call out the workers during his quarrel with Quadros, some thought he could disrupt the giant nation.

But, then came the sudden peace between the "Jan-Jans"—Quadros and Goulart issued a statement. Just as suddenly Quadros began wooing the Russians. Goulart soon was to go as his personal representative to Peiping.

THEN THE UNIONS revolted, on April 28, in Sao Paulo with open attacks on Quadros and Goulart. On May 14, the anti-Communists ran a mass demonstration in Rio's biggest stadium.

Finally came a national concentration of more than 800 Brazilian labor leaders in Sao Paulo

Brazilian Labor Saves The Day

during the last week of July. Speaking for over four million unionized workers, they launched the "National Trade Union Committee for the Defense of Democracy."

They showed Quadros and Goulart they were free working people and that they loathed those who wooed the Soviets. They also sent 16 delegates to the Fifth Continental Congress of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers (ORIT) in Rio during the week of Aug. 20.

This federation of 20 million unionists, ranging from Canada to the Falkland Islands, has been bluntly outspoken. Among the U.S. delegates were the AFL-CIO's beloved Latin American specialist, Serafino Romauldi, and William Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer and second in command to George Meany at AFL-CIO headquarters.

At ORIT no one pulled any political punches, through Quadros was still president and love-the-Communists - and - hate - the - U.S. was official Brazilian governmental policy.

OF CASTRO, the western hemisphere labor parley said, "The people of Cuba are now living under an undeniably cruel dictatorship." On East Berlin, ORIT accused the Russians of "suppressing any manifestation of liberty and maintaining the people in abject slavery."

At ORIT's opening, a tingling drama was played right on the speakers' stage. The delegates were greeted by Carlos Lacerda, governor of the Rio region (Guanabara). Lacerda is the man most responsible for driving out Quadros.

"We do not want," said Lacerda, "the hopes of the Brazilian people . . . to be gainsaid by a policy of capitulations to the Communist trend . . . If it is necessary to reaffirm our ideas in the streets, and fight in the streets, we shall not hesitate to fight to secure these achievements (democratic rights)."

Lacerda poured out his soul to those workers' leaders early in the day—Thursday, Aug. 24. Also he said he would resign so he could "hit the streets," as they say, and arouse the people.

They cheered him. But at 8 p.m. he had them in for a reception in his gubernatorial palace. Then he informed them he would not resign. The leaders said they were with him.

An hour later, he took to the airwaves. Quadros resigned. For once our friends hit N. S. Khrushchev with a hundred political megatons.

Some 15 years of cooperation with the Latin labor leaders, invitations to our land, help and understanding paid off. We appear to have won one at last.

Letters To The Editor

On Sept. 5, a letter was signed by a delegation from Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow praising the good work of the East Liverpool Township Trustees. Previously, this delegation had a petition to close the right of way of Valley Ave. This also was signed by the township trustees.

An article appeared in the Review "Funds Adopted for the Township." In other business, the trustees received a request from a delegation of residents of Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow that the avenue be officially opened.

Previously, another delegation requested the avenue be abandoned, but this was turned down by the Columbiana County commissioners.

The trustees informed the delegation they would refuse to take any action until all fences and buildings have been cleared from the right of way.

I wish to thank the Columbiana County commissioners for using a little sense, for not closing a dedicated 30-foot street and leaving a 20-foot alley opened.

The letter stated, "Their honesty and good work they have done and doing in our township roads." One signer has gone clear to the creek, with a two-stall garage, blocking the right of way off Valley Ave. He has gone as far back as he can go, closing the property of another residence, which borders Valley Ave. Now he is expanding on to Hudson St. to the tune of 13 feet.

I would like to know if the township has the authority to remove all personal and private property from the same, or do we have to have a court order?

If anyone in the East Liverpool Township would care to check on the right of way, we have a map made by a private surveyor, paid by some of the residents of Valley Ave. and Price St. But, none paid toward finding the right of way that signed the letter praising the good work of the township trustees.

I also say "God bless our township trustees."

ship trustees," but if they are elected again, "God save our roads," because they can't close the alley, and I think they have already counted the votes of Dry Run Hollow.

The mothers of the school children who have to use 9th St. and old Chestnut St. to get to school would like to take this opportunity to thank these men:

Mr. Laughlin, our councilman, for his advice.

Supt. Betts for coming to 9th St. and old Chestnut St. to see the muddy and unsafe condition of the area. Mr. Betts made the arrangements to improve conditions.

The road construction workers for making a slag walk for our children on 9th and on old Chestnut Sts. and under the overpass which were very muddy. They also have agreed to watch for the children on their way to and from school when they are running the heavy equipment on old Chestnut St. For this we thank them very much.

The Police Department for the excellent job it has done in protecting our children while crossing 8th St. at the foot of old Chestnut. The children would have been unable to cross here if the police guard was not there.

We are grateful for the interest and concern all of these men have shown for our children and we are thankful for what has been done to make the way to school safer for them.

(Mrs. Antonette Buckley, Mrs. Ralph Sgro, Mrs. Dale Walter, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Mays and Mrs. Audrey Booth submitted the above letter.)

The Kennedy Course

By David Lawrence

Steel Price Restrictions Seen Dangerous

The Kennedy administration has crossed the Rubicon. It has decided to make war on conservative economics and embark on a course of radical economics.

It is ignoring the risk that it may plunge the country into more unemployment within the next 18 months and bring about perhaps the worst recession since the 1930's.

For President Kennedy has determined to put certain limits on business profits and the return on investments that stockholders have hitherto expected when putting their savings into private enterprise.

The net result could be the gradual collapse of the private-enterprise system in America and the beginning of that era of socialism which Nikita Khrushchev has predicted will inevitably lead to communism in another generation in the United States.

President Kennedy's crucial step came a few days ago when he openly threatened the steel industry with reprisals by government unless it agreed to forego any price increases at this time.

Mr. Kennedy vaguely promised that next year, when the unions ask for still higher wages, he would urge "moderation."

He didn't define the term but the entire business world noted that Mr. Kennedy significantly refused to ask the unions at this time to forego the additional wage increases scheduled for them at the end of this month under a contract signed early in 1960 after a long strike.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY thus far has absorbed a 10 per cent rise in labor costs since 1958 without a price increase. Fair play would seem to require that, since the steel industry has already absorbed this large increase in wages without a price rise, the least that Mr. Kennedy might have done was to ask labor to cancel its increase scheduled for Oct. 1 this year.

But the Kennedy administration has sitting in the Cabinet, as secretary of labor, the man who was general counsel of the biggest steel union in the country. Had there been a secretary of commerce in a Republican administration who had previously been a leader in the steel industry—either as president of a large company or as its principal negotiator just a few months earlier during a major strike—the howl that would have gone up about "conflict of interest" would have been heard from coast to coast.

Industry has no voice in the Kennedy cabinet. The secretary of commerce is afraid of his shadow and allowed himself to be influenced by the radicals in the administration when he ordered the virtual suppression of the Business Advisory Council which had existed for decades as a means of communication between business and the executive branch of the government.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S procedure in writing a letter to 12

steel companies and in immediately making it public is the subject of sharp criticism.

He did not invite these steel executives to come to Washington beforehand to give their side of the issue. He took them by surprise as he issued his letter and threatened restrictive measures if they didn't obey.

This is one of the most surprising in recent years and it is small wonder that it is being regarded as the beginning of a series of hostile acts to throttle American enterprise and to pave the way for nationalization or socialization of the larger industries in America.

Mr. Kennedy himself has never been regarded as a radical but he has surrounded himself with advisers who sincerely believe in government ownership. In giving their advice, they can hardly refrain from advocating a philosophy which could eventually mean the end of private capitalism in America.

Every one of these advisers hates communism and all that Mr. Khrushchev stands for but, as is the case in Britain with the Socialist Laborites who favor nationalization of industry, they don't always realize the ultimate consequences of current action.

Mr. Kennedy is not himself an economist. He finds himself lost in economic jargon and economic arguments and tends to follow what seems to him a plausible policy.

His economic advisers concede that it is a "most hazardous undertaking" to estimate future output and profits in steel, but they did it just the same and took no account of the need of different companies to buy new plant and equipment or to continue to earn a proper return on investors' money.

Instead, a blanket order was favored that would cut profit margins and let labor have its Oct. 1 increase just the same.

MEANWHILE, the Department of Justice is engaging in a crusade against large business enterprises by brandishing antitrust suits in their faces almost every day. It is interesting to note that the executives of the 12 companies which got the President's identical letter are virtually forbidden to discuss it with each other, since the subject is price making.

The steel companies could be hauled into court for price collusion if they as much as sat down together to discuss what kind of replies they should make as an industry.

Indeed, the future of all trade associations in America may well be in jeopardy if the Kennedy administration cries out "price fixing" every time business leaders go to an annual convention of their industry to discuss common problems, including threats coming from foreign competition.

The annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute had, for instance, long been scheduled for this week, but it was cancelled for fear that any meeting of steel executives at this time would be misunderstood. And all this happens in "free" America.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Maultz of Michigan Ave. attended the annual conference of Methodist Episcopal churches at Lakeside.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Atty. Charles J. Russell of Wellsview, member of the Lisbon draft board for District 3, handed in his resignation to W. D. Morris, chairman.

Behind the three-hit pitching of John Clendenning, King-Eells triumphed over Globe Brick, 9-2, to capture the YMCA tri-state softball championship.

Walter Clapsaddle was re-named counselor of East Liverpool Chapter #4, Disabled American Veterans.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Clyde Cozzens, a member of the Newell Women's Club, was named chairman of a committee to study community projects.

The coin-operated vending machine is not a modern device. It goes back either to 215 or 219 B.C., when either an Egyptian barber named Teseubus or a Greek high priest, Heros Ctesubus — depending upon which piece of vending-machine publicity you read — invented a unit to dispense holy water.

The Once Over

The way things are going in museums it wouldn't surprise us if "Whistler's Mother" got "hijacked" right out of her rocker. There's a crime wave in the art world, with more than $5 million in famous paintings stolen from museums and gallery walls lately. People are going to museums to see what pictures are MISSING.

Evidently the thieves get out with priceless paintings as easily as shoplifters get out of supermarkets with a jar of marmalade or pickles. Goya's "Duke of Wellington" was snatched from British Museum the other day. It must have been work of tough thieves, as the Duke, even in oil, is a formidable fellow, whose record and personality seem to say "No nonsense. Scram or else."

Picasso's "Bathers" and Matisse's "Woman at Window" have been stolen. How anybody could walk out with those bathers without attracting a crowd baffles us.

How do the thieves get away with it? It's not easy to walk into museum, grab a masterpiece from the wall and flee. They can't merely hand a note to a guard reading, "This gun is loaded. Hand me the 'Duke of Wellington' or you're dead."

It must be that the guards aren't as alert as they used to be and like so many people in all levels of employment, take the "I should worry" and "Anything goes" attitude. Perhaps a guard watching over "Mona Lisa" says "You and your smile, and me getting along on $50 a week! Who needs you?"

By H. I. Phillips

"SHE MADE HER DEBUT in a play called 'The Fortune Hunter,'" says news item about death of Anna Davis. This carries some about an implication that it was just another play. But "The Fortune Hunter," by Winchell Smith, was a long run comedy and, believe it or not, the light male lead was played by John Barrymore, long before he had ambitions as a serious player.

Kenneth Roberts, speaking of the old-time autos, asks if we remember the Peerless, Regal, Liberty, Pope-Harford, Paige, H.C.S. and Willys-Knight? He says there was never a Chalmers Jackrabbit. It was an Apperson.

Most amusing headline mixup of year occurred in New York Times the other day when "Kennedy Salutes Theatrical Group" appeared over story of a restaurant, while "Roadhouse Offers Sizzling Fare" appeared over story of a presidential telegram.

The highest purse a professional athlete ever received for a single performance was collected by former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney in his second fight against Jack Dempsey in Chicago on September 22, 1927. For those 30 minutes of fighting, Tunney received $900,000.

In Teheran there is a six-year-old boy who is running, jumping, playing . . . showing how a boy has fun when he has waited all his life to do it! Until last year, Moshe Nemanpor was virtually immobilized; he was small for his age, his nails and lips were blue . . . he was a blue baby!

When he was five an operation, completely successful, was performed on Moshe. The operation and after-care were provided through the combined efforts of two hospitals. Within three months Moshe had grown three inches, his weight was normal, he could move about like any healthy child.

This happy outcome never would have happened except for Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. One of the hospitals in this case is supported by funds raised through the United Jewish Appeal. But all three American faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain programs to help those in need overseas. Survey To Seek Data Related To Area Polio Shots Information on polio shots will be collected from a number of local families in connection with the September Current Population Survey, the U.S. Census Bureau announced today.

The information is being collected for the U.S. Public Health Service so that estimates of the number of persons who have had polio shots can be brought up to date. The polio shot questions, to be asked of persons under 60 years of age, are: Have you had any polio injections or shots? How many shots have you already had? When did you get the latest shot?

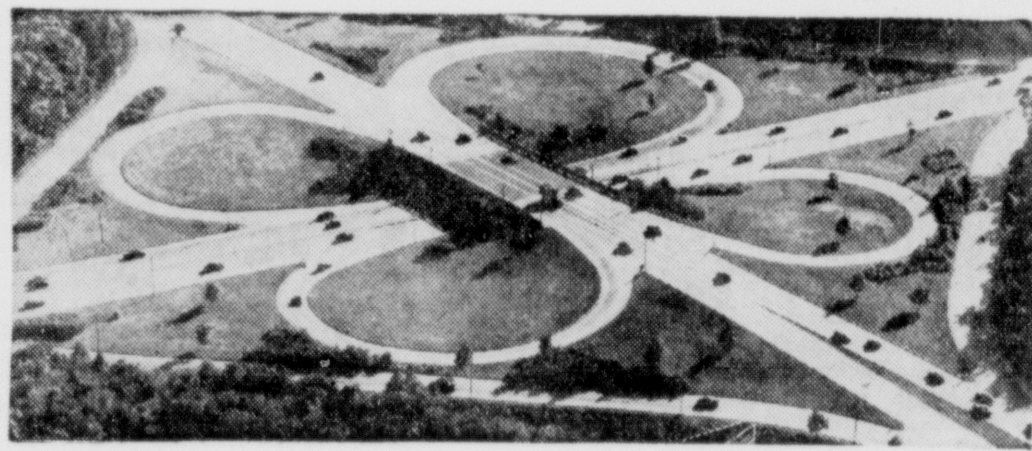

The polio shot questions will be in addition to the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment. The Current Population Survey will be conducted here and in 333 other sample areas of the country next week. Information will be collected by Goldie Steele in Carroll, Columbiana, and Harrison Counties. Census Bureau activities in this area are supervised by Director Robert A. Yorkey of the bureau's regional field office at Detroit.

Why good drivers in Ohio are switching to Allstate Auto Insurance

1. They find that, year after year, Allstate policyholders have saved real folding money on their auto insurance. You can't buy better protection—so why pay more?
2. They like the Good Driver Plan which offers lower rates to drivers with accident-free records.
3. They want protection against cancellation of their liability insurance. After 90 days, new policyholders are given written assurance that their liability protection won't be cancelled just because of accidents . . . assurance for a full 5-year period from the date of their policy.

These benefits apply to private passenger autos, individually owned, or owned by husband and wife . . . but are not afforded to assigned risks.

No wonder Allstate writes more auto liability insurance than any other company in the world. Why don't you see or phone an Allstate Agent now

Road Flasher To Be Sought At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A move to obtain a traffic flasher signal for Route 644 near a frozen custard stand was discussed at a meeting of Council Monday night.

Councilmen reviewed the traffic hazard at the site where cars pull in and out of the parking area at the stand, and Mayor Kenneth Leishman said he would confer with Gaylord Zellers, Ohio Highway Department's superintendent in Columbiana County, about state co-operation in providing a warning signal.

Council authorized the solicitor to prepare legislation concerning salary for persons hired to fill in vacation schedules of regular employees. Mayor Leishman said the regulation should be revised to permit regular full pay for temporary workers instead of the present pay.

The mayor reported Pete Growall, street supervisor, had requested repairs for the city truck, but action was delayed until mid-October.

The building committee was requested to investigate the possibility of installing a circulating pump for the heating system at the Village Hall in order to cut fuel costs.

On a motion by Councilman Orvel Tolson, Council approved a bond for the recently hired deputy marshal, Jay Carter.

Councilman Joe Knight reported a requested cleaning of a ditch on Lincoln St. has not been completed, and Growall was instructed to perform the work.

The street committee is to determine if a dead tree on Superior St. in the East End is on village property. A complaint had been received concerning the tree as a hazard.

Councilman Homer Barcus was absent.

C. W. Meadows, Ex-West Virginia Governor, Dies

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP) — Clarence W. Meadows, West Virginia's governor in the transition to peacetime after World War II, died here early today. He was 57.

Meadows, a resident of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., since the mid-1950s, died in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Hospital.

He entered the hospital last month after he was stricken by a heart ailment while he and Mrs. Meadows were visiting at the Clifton Forge home of her father, E. R. Massie Sr. As the ex-governor's condition worsened, it was complicated by a kidney ailment.

Meadows, a Democrat, took office in Charleston as West Virginia's 22nd governor on Jan. 15, 1945, not quite a month before his 41st birthday. His inauguration culminated a political climb during which he had served as state legislator, prosecuting attorney in his home county of Raleigh, state attorney general and circuit judge.

In his four years as governor, Meadows got along extremely well with the Legislature, even considering that it was controlled by his own party.

Meadows' survivors include Mrs. Meadows and four daughters.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married for 15 years to a man who has no bad habits and is a good father. The problem is I can't get a dollar out of him.

We own a four-family flat. Six years ago when our janitor and maintenance man quit I took over "temporarily."

Well! I'm still at it with no relief in sight. I'm a plumber's daughter so I know how to fix everything in that line. I can even fix the air conditioners and do a little carpenter work. I've papered and painted, varnished and laid linoleum when tenants have moved out so the flats would be rentable.

We have a vegetable garden in back and every year I put up 200 quarts of beets, tomatoes, carrots, dill pickles and asparagus. I do all this in addition to taking care of my own family, which numbers six. When I ask my husband for a few dollars to get a permanent wave or a new pair of shoes he says, "Wait till I die. You'll get everything."

What can I do? — GETTING TIRED.

Dear Getting: Take on one more job — collect the rent. At the rate you're going, Lady.

Hookstown Auxiliary

Confirms Donations

Donations of $50 and $16 for the recent banquet of the auxiliary of the South Side Athletic Club were acknowledged at a meeting Monday evening at the Hookstown American Legion home.

Mrs. Louise Wright, president, reported the Frankfort Springs district gave $50 and the Shippingport Mothers Club gave $16 while the Hookstown Grange donated use of its hall.

Mrs. Frances Finley, treasurer, reported a balance of $210.39. A discussion was held on a winter style show with plans to be reported later. Directors of each district will plan it.

Lunch was served by the Georgetown hostesses. Next meeting is Oct. 2 with Hookstown women hostesses.

Trumbull's Traffic Toll 50% Over 1960

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Trumbull County's 1961 traffic death toll is running 50 per cent ahead of 1960, with a total of 33 deaths to 22 last year.

Latest victim was Frank Pascarella Jr., 31, of Hubbard. He was killed Monday afternoon when a car in which he was riding on Ohio 7 near U.S. 62 missed a curve and overturned.

you'll die—and he'll get everything.

Unnecessary Handicap

Dear Ann: I'm a woman 30 years of age and I have no major problems. I'd be very grateful if you'd print this letter as a means of educating some of the bores in this world.

I happen to have a few rather large warts on my face. My doctor has told me that they are not dangerous from a health standpoint, so I just forget they are there — until some ignoramus makes a vulgar remark.

Will you please tell people that it is in the worst possible taste to make comments of this type? Thank you. — G.R.

Dear G. R.: It's your face—and you can grow anything on it you like but why in the world would an intelligent woman choose to go through life with warts on her face when a dermatologist can remove them in his office during her lunch hour?

Of course it's terribly rude to comment on the warts but you could solve the problem very easily and at the same time improve your appearance. My earnest hope is that you will.

Church Rat

Dear Ann: I used to think well of your advice but no more. In your column you always advise people to make friends through clubs, organizations and, above all, church groups.

My daughter, Hester, was an avid fan. She took your advice and joined a church group and that's where she met this man. She devoted herself to him completely for 18 months. Then his wife showed up and threatened Hester with an alienation of affection suit. He had three children and a police record.

We were stunned. He seemed so respectable and decent. From now on you'd better think twice before you advise nice girls to meet men through church groups. A church offers an ideal front for scoundrels to hide behind.— STUNNED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Churches have rats, too, but that doesn't mean your daughter ought to go out with them.

No safeguard can match common sense and judgment. A girl who could go with a man for 18 months and not pick up a single clue to his double life must be less than bright.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mr. And Mrs. R. R. Haynes Residing In Morgantown

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rex Haynes have returned from a honeymoon trip by car and are residing in Morgantown, W. Va., following their marriage Aug. 19 at 7 o'clock at the United Presbyterian Church of Clinton.

The bride was Miss Sally Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dawson of Hookstown R. D. 1, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Crawford C. Haynes of the Glendale Rd., Newell.

The Rev. A. D. Anderson, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Mrs. Louis Wagner of Georgetown gave a quarter-hour recital of organ music. Ted Cunningham sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and imported French illusion over peau de soie. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a Victorian neckline, outlined with seed pearls, long, tapered sleeves and a dropped waistline with self-fabric bows on each side. The bouffant skirt featured inserts of lace.

Her scalloped, fingertip veil of French illusion was outlined in embroidery and held in place by a floral tiara decorated with seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and carnations tied with satin streamers.

Miss Evelyn Dawson was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of white silk nylon over taffeta with yellow embroidery highlighting the bodice and skirt. Her shoes were white and she wore white nylon mitts.

Miss Donna Halstead and Miss Linda McCarrell, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Miss Mary Esther Dawson, another sister, was junior bridesmaid. They appeared in dresses identically styled to that of the maid of honor except the embroidery was a mint color. All wore tiaras of seed pearls with theater veils to match the embroidery on the dresses. Their Colonial bouquets were of carnations and satin streamers.

Marlene Waters and Perry Dawson, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ringbearer. She wore a white nylon dress with flower headband and carried a basket of rose petals.

Lynn Haynes, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were John Kiger, Earl Kiger, Ed Laughley and Pete Arner.

A reception for 275 was held in the social hall. A four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the buffet table. A color theme of white and yellow was used in the floral arrangements and lighted tapers.

Aides were Mrs. Kay McElhany, Miss Margaret Turney and Mrs. Edith Smith.

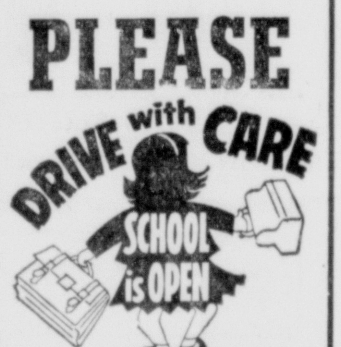

The bride is a 1957 graduate of

Lisbon Holds Up Planning Step Action

LISBON — Council Monday night discussed the proposal for a Columbiana County Planning Commission but delayed action until a special meeting next Monday.

A petition is being circulated in the county for county commissioners to appoint the planning group but councilmen decided to discuss it further before signing the petition.

Efforts are being made to enroll all cities and villages in the county in the planning step, although some of the subdivisions already have planning groups.

In other business, Council decided to pay $3 per hour, the same rate as fire calls, for firemen manning the police ambulance.

Payment of $400 for repairs to the leaf collector for use this coming fall was authorized and $600 was transferred from the general fund to the swimming pool fund.

The fire department's insurance policy for the additional equipment from the Civil Defense was discussed and Clerk Ray Hempstead was instructed to get more information from the insurance company for the next meeting. The village and Center and Elk-run Townships help pay this additional insurance.

Purchase of new parking meters was discussed again but the proposal was tabled until Council can get the street equipment replaced or repaired.

Mayor Dean Stockman reported on wood cut for Willow Grove Park and said repair of the swinging bridge has been postponed to spring so that it would not be out all winter in the adverse weather.

Council's next meeting is Sept. 25 as it will return to two meetings a month after the summer schedule of once monthly.

The Rev. William Hewitt, president, presided. Rev. Beck conducted devotions, reading I Cor. 15 from Moffett's translation.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were heard. A letter will be sent the Rev. Robert Meyers, of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Wellsville, thanking him for his work for the association.

Plans for participation in a Prince of Peace contest were discussed. Action was delayed until the next meeting Oct. 2, when further information will be obtained, according to the Rev. James Sanko, secretary.

District Teams Starved . . .

The immediate district was starved for a football victory this past weekend.

The only team that came close was Beaver Local, which rallied to the Leetonia, 14-14, in the late stages of the game. Five other district schools lost.

East Liverpool was the only team to be shut out, but it came at the hands of a powerful Niles team that may reign as the 1961 state football champion.

Sygar, Conrad Impressive . . .

THE BEST two backs we saw in the first round of football for the 1961 season were Rick Sygar, who scored three touchdowns for Niles, and Paul Conrad, Leetonia's elusive junior halfback, who kept Beaver Local in hot water all night.

The most fearsome lineman, and a sure bet for all-state honors, was Karl Singer, the 210-pound right tackle for Niles, who probably could handle one side of the line by himself.

TONY MASON, the Niles head football coach, an easy guy to get along with, claims that the reason for the size of his team is weightlifting. Each boy on the squad who took part in the program gained weight at a surprising rate over a period of one year.

THE EAST LIVERPOOL-NILES EL, Tiger Reserves To Meet . . .

WELLSVILLE and East Liverpool will renew grid relations Saturday night when the reserve teams from the two schools clash at Patterson Field.

Potter coach Bob H. Edmond said he will use all sophomores in the game, playing an offensive and a defensive unit. East Liverpool has 27 sophomores on the squad this season.

MASSILLON and Niles, who will race each other for Ohio laurels this season, may see how many points they can score on an opponent since they don't meet in the regular season. Massillon got off to a pretty good start, registering a 50-6 victory over Newark.

Maris, Mantle Must Play

Next 10 Contests On Road

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The magic number for Roger Maris is four. Make it seven for Mickey Mantle, add another for the New York Yankees' charmed digit, and that's the situation as the chase for Babe Ruth's home run record and the American League pennant resumes tonight.

After a one-day respite, the M&M homer hammerers move into Chicago with 10 games in an eight-day period remaining in which to tie or surpass the Bambino's home run record of 60 under the 154-decision allotment decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Maris, with 56 homers, is four games ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927, while Mantle, with 53, has fallen two behind for the showdown stretch—night games at Chicago tonight and Wednesday and a day tilt Thursday, a two-nighter at Detroit Friday followed by day contests Saturday and Sunday, a two-nighter at Baltimore Tuesday, and a night game Wednesday.

The Yankees, leading the runner-up Detroit Tigers by 1½ games, need any combination of eight wins or Detroit losses to wrap up their 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie Manager Ralph Houk.

Maris, who has found White Sox pitching the easiest in his chase with Ruth—he has tagged 13 against Chicago hurlers—and Mantle will be hitting against lefty Billy Pierce (9-8), the only AL moundsmen to surrender two homers to Maris in one game. Ralph Terry (13-2) goes for New York.

Mantle, who has hit 29 homers

on the road to 24 at Yankee Stadium was looking forward to the road battles. But Maris, who has hit half away and half at home, expressed indifference to his surroundings.

The Yankees, riding a 12-game winning streak, and the Tigers sat it out Monday, maintaining the status quo at the top of the standings. In the only games played, Boston walloped Washington 14-4, and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

In the National League, Gordon Windhorn's pinch-hit homer in the inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia, and moved the Dodgers within 3½ games of idle, first-place Cincinnati.

San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in 10 innings and St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 4-1.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gordon Windhorn led off the 11th inning with a pinch-hit home run that gave Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia Monday night and moved the second-place Dodgers within 3½ games of the National League leading Cincinnati Reds, who were idle.

Windhorn's game-winner broke the Dodgers' three-game losing streak, kept them only one game back in the lost column that has become the key to their hopes of overtaking Cincinnati and ended a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese.

Ferrarese had hurled seven innings of no-hit relief and stretched his shutout string to 22 innings when Windhorn, brought up from Omaha in mid-season, whacked his first major league homer and fourth hit in 16 at bats.

Fourth-place San Francisco gained ground on third-place Milwaukee by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 10 innings on Felipe Alou's homer while the Braves were losing 4-1 to St. Louis.

In the only American League games, Boston mauled Washington 14-4 and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

The Phils, trailing 5-1 after three innings, rocked starter Johnny Podres in the fourth for three runs on Lee Walls second homer of the night and Bob Malmkus' two-run single after the Dodger left-hander had filled the bases on walks. Charlie Smith's home run in the seventh tied it.

Ron Perranoski, (7-5), third Los Angeles pitcher, picked up the win, blanking the Phils for four innings before the Dodgers finally got to Ferrarese (4-10).

Jack Sanford (11-8) went all the way for the Giants, keeping the bases clear of Pirates by retiring the last 15 men he faced after Dick Stuart tagged him for homer No. 27 and tied it 3-3 in the sixth. Alou was the first man reliever Elroy Face (6-9) pitched to when he came on for starter in McBean, who left for a punch hitter.

Larry Jackson (13-9) checked the Braves on six hits and now has won five in succession and 10 of 11 decision since Johnny Keane replaced Solly Hemus as Cardinal manager in July. The Cards clinched it in the sixth against Lew Burdette (16-10) when Ken Boyer and Stan Musial, both 3-for-4, singled and scored on Carl Sawatski's pinch-hit single after a walk loaded the bases.

BABE RUTH IS DEAD, but his mighty record of 60 home runs in one season is as tough competitor to the aspiring slugger as the "Bambino" was himself. Here, Roger Maris, who has 56 homers to his credit, eyes the Ruth Memorial plaque at Yankee Stadium. (UPI Telephoto)

Rookie's Homer Slices Reds Lead To 3½ Games

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The desperate Dodgers have one foot in the door instead of the grave today because rookie Gordon Windhorn called his shot and delivered the first home run of his major league career.

The 11th-inning drive into the Coliseum's left-field seats brought Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia Monday night and, in an instant, reduced a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese to wreckage.

It also cut idle Cincinnati's lead over the second-place Dodgers to 3½ games.

Ferrarese had pitched seven innings in relief without allowing a hit and had a 1-and-2 count on

Windhorn when the Dodger outfielder hit his homer.

Dodger infielder Daryl Spencer said Windhorn told him before leaving the dugout and going to bat:

"I'm going to hit one out of here and win this game."

Windhorn has had only 16 at-bats for the Dodgers all season. "He hasn't been in many games," said Manager Walt Alston, "but he's already won for us."

Alston readily acknowledged the Dodgers have a considerable piece of ground to cover. They have 18 games to play and Cincinnati has 13. If the Reds play at about their present pace and win 8 of the 13, the Dodgers will have to win 14 of 18 just to gain a tie.

Reds Face Old Jinxes Tonight Against Cubs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The league-leading Cincinnati Reds face one of their most galling jinxes in the National League tonight—the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs may be in seventh place, but for the Reds—with the pennant in sight — they're pure poison.

The Reds have won only seven games from the Cubs—the last one late in July—while Chicago has pounded out 13 victories over Cincinnati.

The teams meet once more this year, Sept. 26 in Chicago. A decision on the pennant winner could go that far.

However, if the Reds divide their last 13 games 7-6, the second place Los Angeles Dodgers would have to take 14 of their remaining 19 contests for even a tie.

Jim O'Toole, the southpaw from Chicago who developed into one of the Reds' most useful pitchers in the past month, has the assignment of holding the Cubs in check tonight.

Died: Ellsworth is his opponent.

Jets To Open Playoff In IL

By The Associated Press

The pennant winning Columbus Jets begin the International League's semifinal playoff series tonight when they meet the Rochester Red Wings in the first game of the best-of-seven series.

In the second playoff game, Charleston, the second place finisher, meets Buffalo at Charleston.

The two winners meet for the Governor's Cup, symbol of the league's playoff championship, with the victor facing the American Association champ in the Junior World Series.

Rochester made it into the series with a thrilling 12-11, 10 inning victory over defending champion Toronto Monday night, after the two had finished in a tie for fourth place when the regular season ended Sunday.

A duel of hard-throwing left handers is expected at Columbus. Bob Veale will start for the Jets and Art Quirk for Rochester.

Veale (14-11) led the league with 204 strikeouts. Quirk (10-8) has fanned 162 batters.

Ray Washburn, the IL's top winner with a 16-9 record, will get the call for Charleston. He will be opposed by Babe Birrer (11-9) of third-place Buffalo.

U.S. To Face India Netters In Davis Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Davis Cup brass stopped worrying about Australia and Italy today and turned their attention to India, a more immediate problem.

The United States must meet India, winner of the Eastern Zone, in New Delhi, probably on Sept. 29-30-Oct. 1 for the right to go against European Zone champion Italy Oct. 13-15.

Down through the years, when the United States has not held the cup, shooting past the Eastern Zone winner was regarded as a mere formality en route to the challenge round.

But conditions have changed. The United States wanted to play India on clay in Houston, Tex. India wanted New Delhi. So under Davis Cup rules, the problem was placed in the hands of the reigning champion, Australia. A toss of a coin was made and India won.

The United States wanted to play on clay because Tut Bartzten, America's No. 2 player, is at his best on hard surfaces. U.S. cup Capt. David Freed now is faced with the task of getting together a team that not only is capable but available. Chuck McKinley, his No. 1 player, isn't sure he can get away from his studies at Trinity College (Tex.).

Dennis Ralston, No. 2, is under suspension until Jan. 1. Don Dell, Whitney Reed and Jon Douglas are possibilities for the squad.

Amateur Golf Champ Almost Upset Victim

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Defending champion Deane Beman skidded through his opening test only to run into tougher Billy Joe Patton today in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Beman, 23, insurance man from Arlington, Va., narrowly missed becoming No. 1 upset victim of this event before turning back Harry Allers, 21, of Lake Wales, Fla., 1-up on the tricky and treacherous Pebble Beach course.

Happy-go-lucky Patton of Morganton, N.C., playing in his 11th U.S. Amateur, drew a bye and watched the first-round action over the par 36-72 course on the edge of the Pacific Ocean.

Beman led 4-up at the end of nine holes but the lead was cut to one by the end of the 14th after he ran into troubles and began spraying tee shots. If Allers hadn't missed an 18-inch putt at the 11th, the match could have gone into extra holes.

Seventy-two first-round winners joined 56 who had byes to make up today's second round of 128. Failing to reach it were John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex., and Charles Lewis of Little Rock, Ark. both semifinalists last year; Bill Hyndman, the Walker Cup player from Philadelphia; and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., three times a Walker Cup competitor.

Farquhar fell before Dick Lotz, 18, of San Lorenzo, Calif., 3 and 1, while Campbell was eliminated by Andy Gard, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., 1-up. Hyndman lost 1 up to Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif. Today Lotz goes against C. A. Smith III of Jackson, Mich., who advanced via bye. Gard faces Dud Wyson, Jr., of McKenney, Tex., who also didn't play Monday, while Davies goes against Harton Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a 5 and 4 victor over Pandell Savic of Columbus, Ohio.

Ex-champions Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio State husky who won the 1959 title as a 19-year-old, and two-time winner Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City see their first action today. Nicklaus faces Dr. Donald Krieger of Portland, Ore. Coe, champion in 1949 and 1958, meets John Nichols of Downey, Calif.

Ex-champs advancing via victories were Harvie Ward of San Francisco, downing Vanderbilt student George Creagh 5 and 4, and Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., who beat Canadian Keith Alexander by the same margin.

Chick Evans, 71, Chicago veteran playing his 49th national tournament and winner in 1916 and 1920, lost his match 5 and 4 to former University of Illinois football and golf star, Jim McCarthy.

Wilson Madden of Elyria, Ohio, survived his first round match with a 4 and 3 victory over Michael Bosers of Spooan, Wash.

Browns Must Cut 2 Today For 36 Limit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two players were due to be cut today, bringing the Cleveland Browns roster within the National Football League limit of 36.

Halfback Billy Gault was a good bet to be one of the dismissed players. The rookie from Texas Christian has been facing rough competition in the defensive backfield where five players are back from last season.

The other cut appeared likely at offensive tackle, where Mike McCormack, Dick Schafath, Lou Groza, Jim Marshall and Ed Nutting have been vying for the job. Marshall and Nutting lack experience.

The Browns learned Monday that end Rich Kreitling's injury in a collision with a field official in the Detroit game Saturday was not serious. Kreitling suffered a bruise and should be ready to play in the season opener against the Philadelphia Eagles Saturday.

The Browns finished the exhibition campaign with a scoring average of 24.6 points a game, compared with an average of 30 per game last season.

Two Golfers Elected To Hall Of Fame

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Lawson Little and Henry Picard, golf greats of pre-World War II days, have been elected to the PGA Hall of Fame in a nationwide poll of professional golfers.

Little, 52, perhaps the game's top amateur match player received 482 votes. Picard, 55, pro at the Canterbury Golf Club, Cleveland, Ohio, got 431.

Other high on the list in the balloting included Johnny Farrell, 416 votes; Bobby Cruickshank, 341; John Revolta, 279; Olin Dutra, 277; Ed Dudley, 248; Billy Burke, 208; and Joe Kirkwood Sr., 135.

PGA President Lou Strong, in announcing the outcome of the voting, said Little and Picard would be inducted formally into the Hall of Fame Nov. 7.

Little, now retired and living at Pebble Beach, Calif., won the U.S. and British Amateur championships in 1934 and 1935. He won 32 consecutive match play victories during the mid-1930s. He turned pro in 1936 and four years later defeated Gene Sarazen in a playoff for the U.S. Open.

Picard won the PGA Championship in 1939 and finished as runner-up on two occasions. He won the Masters Championship in 1938 and led all money winners on the PGA tour the next year. He also finished as runner-up for money winning honors in 1935 and 1937. He was a Ryder Cup team member three times.

Home runs—Philadelphia, Walls 2 (7), C. Smith (10), Los Angeles, Fairly (9), Windhorn (1).

3 Back In Honor Camp Following Chase, Crashup

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Three men were back in the state honor farm here today—captured after a high speed chase, a spectacular crashup, and an extensive manhunt.

Returned to the prison farm from which they escaped Saturday night were Edward E. Mallory, 22, of Cleveland; and Frank J. Luna, 20, and Major Edward Jr., 21, both of Lima.

The three, traveling east in Lorain County in a stolen car, were flagged by police in North Ridgeville, but the car sped off. Patrolman Steve Yonkoff pursued them at speeds sometimes exceeding 90 miles an hour, he said.

The car went out of control on a curve near the Cuyahoga County line, crashed through a guard rail and landed on its top in a gully. The fugitives escaped from the wreckage.

A search party of 16 policemen found Edwards hiding in a cornfield.

Mallory was arrested in Westlake Monday by a North Olmsted policeman who found him hiding in a field near Center Ridge Road. Luna was walking on Center Ridge Road when he was arrested by another North Olmsted policeman.

Mallory was serving time for assault to rob, Luna for breaking and entering and Edwards for forgery.

By MARIE TORRE

'Sing Along' Versus 'The Untouchables'

Is it true what they say about the horror of TV violence?

The viewing public, for whose welfare Federal Communications Commission Chairman Minow has been playing a carping game, will be presented with a supreme opportunity to impale the popular belief that while everybody condemns violence, everybody supports violence on TV.

Marie Torre

This unwholesome notion has been bolstered by the unprecedented record of TV's No. 1 perpetrator of murder and mayhem, "The Untouchables," which last season scuttled its civilized and cultivated opponent, "CBS Reports," to no-man's land in the ratings.

Some of the best people reasoned that viewers do not want to be educated but entertained after a hard Thursday at the shop.

MAYBE SO. And in the coming weeks viewers will be permitted to exercise this predilection for entertainment Thursday nights when they'll have the choice of looking in on "The Untouchables" or a program in which the men have songs instead of bullets in their hearts — "Sing Along With Mitch," that is.

In previous sing-dings, the Mitch Miller exercises drew such overwhelming approval, more than any other show in NBC's history, that the network decided it was the only program capable of penetrating the untouchable "Untouchables" this fall.

Will it be proved that the nation's viewers have been flocking to the highly fictionalized adventures of Eliot Ness because it's been the only "entertainment" around? Or will the public make a sham of the causes espoused by Newton Minow and stay with "The Untouchables"?

ONLY THE FUTURE holds the answers, but Miller, for whatever it's worth, is betting on public preference for his kind of music rather than the cacophony of gun-slingers.

If he is correct in this assumption, it is unlikely that success will trigger a volley of imitators, as is so often the case in TV. Until now, no television interest has attempted to parrot the efforts of the bearded prophet of popular music.

Miller hardly emerges as a modest flower when he explains the uniqueness of the show.

"I've had no imitators on TV," he will tell you, "but my 'Sing Along' records have had at least 50 imitators. None made it, not even Bing Crosby."

"WHY? BECAUSE, first of all, ours is a deceiving simplicity. We choose music that has a perennial quality, the cream that has risen to the top, so to speak, and that also goes for present-day numbers like "Hey, Look Me Over."

"Also, we play the right tempo, use easy-to-listen arrangements, and the right voice lead-ins so that the harmony goes naturally. Equally important, our male chorus has a virile quality that knocks women over and men like to see, and there isn't a word they sing that viewers can't understand."

"To put it simply, it's all a matter of knowing your music, and using it to give the audience a great listening experience."

IT'S MILLER'S educated opinion that other musical shows on TV have failed in this objective. We brought up the name of Lawrence Welk for an appraisal.

"The Welk show is all right for what it is," he answered, "A band being photographed. While it generates a kind of honest warmth, you have to be over 40 to like Welk."

"Perry Como? You'll find some good musical moments in his shows, but there are many changes in mood on the programs, meaning you might like one part and not another."

Nevertheless, if Miller manages to duplicate Como's and Welk's endurance records next season opposite "The Untouchables," he'll feel lucky but not surprised.

Slides Shown To Explorers

Wayne Wallace of Wellsville R. D., a guest, screened slides of Civil War battlefields in Kentucky and Tennessee at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Jim Monte of Commerce St., Wellsville.

Wallace elaborated on the battle at Franklin, Tenn., in which an important part was played by Gen. Riley and a brigade from Wellsville.

Harry R. Cline and Harry M. Cline displayed artifacts gathered during a recent trip to Flint Ridge. One was a hafted hoe fashioned from chalcedony — a translucent variety of quartz.

H. A. Dawson screened color slides of Indian sites that have been destroyed by industry. He showed scenes of Mingo Bottom, the home of the Mingo tribe.

Dawson, president, named Jim Woodrow and Richard S. Thompson, secretary, to the program committee. Various reports were heard.

These includes a report on a bulletin from the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, a preliminary report on a stratified site at Ohio View and another on the Buchanan Rock Shelter in Beaver County.

Thompson reported on the annual meeting of the Eastern States Archaeological Federation at Toronto, Canada.

Edward V. McMichael reported on archeology programs in West Virginia, pointing out the best known area is in the Upper Ohio Valley section.

The next meeting is Sept. 25 at 7 p. m. at the home of Dawson on Boring Ln.

$250 Loss Fixed In Garage Blaze

Loss was estimated at $250 Monday after fire damaged a section of a frame garage and destroyed some of the contents Sunday at 6:30 p. m. at the home of Robert Cline of Sherwood Ave.

The estimate was made by Homer Cronin, assistant chief of the Liverpool Township east department, which responded to the alarm with 13 men.

Cronin said the blaze apparently was started by a hot sun shining through a window and striking a gasoline-soaked cloth. In addition to the damage to the building, the fire destroyed fishing equipment and a tennis racket, he said.

Meanwhile, members of the department were reminded the first in a 10-week series of classes will be held tonight from 7-10 at the station in LaCroft. Chief Robert Lewis will be instructor.

Post At Chester Helps Shoe Fund

A contribution of $100 to the Hancock County 40 & 8 Society children's shoe fund was authorized Monday night by Chester American Legion Post 121.

A contribution of $25 was approved for the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center.

Jack Huff, commander, presented gold life membership cards to Robert Finley and Dale Allison. The post completed plans to sponsor a six-team bowling league for members. Bowlers are to meet Friday night at 7 at the post home to organize.

Plans were also made for five dinner-dances to be held during the winter. Purchase of an eagle emblem for the top of the post flag pole was approved.

Refreshments were served 50 by John Merriam and social committee.

County Farm Groups Plan Session Sept. 20

A joint meeting of the Mahoning and the Columbiana County Extension Agronomy Committees is set Wednesday Sept. 20, at 8 p. m. in the Salem Memorial Building.

Plans will be made for the 1962 Soil and Crop Winter Institute and other agronomy activities to be held next season.

Farmers Commercial, Experiment Farm, Soil Conservation District, Soil Conservation Service and extension representatives made up the voluntary committee.

St. Clair Group Will Confer With County On Sewer Study

A committee to confer with Columbiana County Commissioners concerning progress of a requested study of sanitary conditions in St. Clair Township was appointed at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Development Association Monday night.

Appointed to the committee were Dean Wilhelm, Calvert Bryan and Herb Thompson. The township group asked for action by the commissioners a number of months ago and has received no reply.

A letter was read from A. R. Todd Associates, a Wheeling engineering concern, which proposed a water and sewage survey for the township in line with improved health and sanitation facilities and future development of the area.

The group is to study the matter, and Todd may be asked to outline his proposal at a future meeting.

A letter was read from the Up-

Socialist Party, Anti-NATO Bloc, Gains In Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The ruling Labor party lost its majority in Parliament and the balance of power fell today to the new Socialist People's party which wants Norway to pull out of the Atlantic Alliance.

The Socialist People's party won only two seats in the 150-member chamber, but these were crucial. Results from Monday's national elections gave the Labor party 74 seats and the same total for the four parties of the non-Socialist opposition. The Laborites had 78 seats in the old Parliament.

The nation's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization did not appear in immediate danger since all major parties support it. It remains to be seen what might happen if the Socialist People's party demands concessions toward its anti-NATO policy in exchange for votes on a key domestic issue.

Bombing Of Famed Pisa Tower Feared

PISA, Italy (AP)—Reports circulated in this central Italian city today that saboteurs might try to blow up the famed leaning tower of Pisa.

The rumors spread after a weekend of terrorist bombings in Rome and half a dozen other cities. Government officials blamed the bombings on German-speaking extremists seeking greater autonomy in South Tyrol.

City authorities in Pisa said they felt normal security measures around the leaning tower are adequate. The monument, a 14th century bell tower standing next to the Cathedral of Pisa, is constantly guarded by at least two policemen.

Soviet Spurns West Note On Berlin Travel

Says East German Regime Has Right To Set Regulations

BERLIN (AP)—In a note assailing Western troop movements to Berlin, the Soviet Union has told the West that the Communist East German regime has the right to regulate foreign travel to East Berlin.

Rejecting an Aug. 26 note from the U.S., British and French ambassadors to West Germany protesting the sealing of the border in divided Berlin, the Soviets told the ambassadors Monday to take their complaints to the East German regime.

One major aim of Premier Khrushchev's pressure on Berlin is to force Western recognition of East Germany. The Western powers regard the East German regime as a Soviet puppet.

Mikhail Pervukhin, Soviet ambassador to East Germany, complained in his note that the Western powers had brought troop reinforcements to Berlin and had posted soldiers on West Berlin's border.

Pervukhin declared such troop movements could encourage "West Berlin's fascist and revenge-seeking elements" and this could result in serious consequences.

Foreigners now are admitted to East Berlin but Pervukhin's note raised the possibility that they soon would be barred. Foreigners may cross into East Berlin on subway and elevated trains or on foot and by car at a special gate at the corner of Friedrichstrasse and Zimmerstrasse.

Pervukhin's letter to U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling was published Monday night by the East German news agency ADN.

The Soviet ambassador said: "Visits by citizens of foreign states to the (East) German Democratic Republic, known as an independent sovereign state, and to its capital are regulated by the government of the G.D.R. If you have any wishes in this connection you must take them up with the authorities of the G.D.R."

In his reference to foreigners, Pervukhin did not distinguish between civilians and troops. In their military dealings, the Western Allies have so far avoided formal contact with East German officials.

Ex-Sen. Green, 93, Reported 'Critical'

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—The condition of former U.S. Sen. Theodore Francis Green, 93, was described as critical today at Jane Brown Hospital.

Green, oldest man ever to serve in the Senate, retired early this year after 23 years there. He has been a hospital patient with a heart block since last Friday.

Glover Heads Grand Jury For Hancock

Irel E. Glover of 3rd Ave., New Cumberland, was chosen foreman of a 15-member Grand Jury panel that convened this morning in Hancock County Circuit Court for the September term.

He is employed in the 54-inch strip mill at the Weirton Steel Co. The panel retired at 10 a. m. to hear evidence by Pros. Atty. Floyd R. Tarr, who is seeking 11 indictments against six defendants.

Judge Ralph E. Pryor charged the panel before it began its investigation. The 1st Judicial Circuit jurist cited the significance of Grand Jury duty and explained its origin in a 10-minute charge.

Judge Pryor did not ask for any special investigations. Serving on the panel are Sam McAvoy, Paul W. Baxter, Lester A. Shaw, Alvin Clutter and Edith M. Sayre, Grant District; Glover, Nick Tunanidis, Donald R. Humes and Warren M. Chamberlain, Clay District; and Florian Haber, Ruby Elmore, Hardie Perkins, Pauline Kondik, Joe Blaszczak, and Serasini Martini, Butler District.

Ellen Connovitch of Weirton was excused from duty because of illness.

Parole Hearing Slated For Ex-Officer In Pen

A parole hearing has been slated Nov. 1 for Ira Cunningham, onetime city police officer who is serving a 1-5 year term at the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus for attempting to bribe a juror.

The hearing will be held by the Pardons and Parole Board at Columbus, according to information received Monday by County Prosecutor William Brokaw.

Cunningham, 54, was taken to the penitentiary Feb. 1 to serve the term for attempted bribery, which stemmed from a 1958 burglary trial for the former officer and Jerry Raimond, one time special officer.

Cunningham was convicted of the bribery charge in 1959. He was one of seven officers and special officers indicted in 1956 for a series of burglaries.

Cooler Temperature Will Follow Showers

Cooler temperatures are heading for the East Liverpool area apparently part of the atmospheric disturbances created by Hurricane Carla off the gulf.

The dip in the mercury will be accompanied by scattered showers or thundershowers tonight and Wednesday.

A high of 78 to 84 is forecast today for this section with a low of 56 to 62 tonight. The downtown had a low of 67 this morning.

A condition of air disturbances out of the south colliding with a cool air mass coming down from Canada had not been expected before Thursday, according to a long-range forecast, but apparently it is arriving earlier.

Board Picks Library Aide For Midland

Mrs. E. M. Wallover Resigns And Louis Glumac Gets Post

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening accepted the resignation of Mrs. E. M. Wallover as a member of the Carnegie Board of Trustees and appointed Louis Glumac to fill her unexpired term.

The resignation and appointment were recommended by the library's trustees. Glumac, an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Midland, resides in Hillcrest Manor. His wife is a nurse in Midland schools.

A member of the Lions Club, Glumac is a native of Midland and a 1929 graduate of Lincoln High School.

The board will send a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Wallover.

Mrs. Wallover and her husband, Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, who resided 41 years in Midland, moved today to an apartment in Beaver.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell commented that the school has received a report from the state auditing committee which has been discussed by board members. It was ordered accepted and filed.

On behalf of Maurice Newman, finance chairman who was absent, Leslie B. Roach presented two motions which the board approved.

One was for the transfers of $50,000 from the general account to the payroll account at the First National Bank and $47,244 from the general account to the sinking fund No. 1 account at the Midland branch of the Beaver Trust Co.

The second transferred $19,900 from the general account to a new sinking fund account No. 2 at the Beaver Trust Co. branch. Jewell explained that the new account is to take care of the $140,000 borrowed earlier this year.

The board approved purchase of a washer and dryer from the Beaver County Maytag Store of New Brighton, costing $400 under a school plan which calls for free replacement and service each year.

The firm offered both for school ownership at $351. Green's Television of Midland offered both for $324.42 but had no school plan. Avery's Television of Beaver offered both for $510 under school ownership and $533 under a school plan but did not specify free replacement.

Death Toll Raised To 7 From Carla

Hurricane Sweeps Inland; Cuts Wide Path Of Destruction

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A tornado spawned by Hurricane Carla killed at least five persons and injured between 50 and 60 in this tide-pounded island city today.

The tornado raised the known death toll to seven as a result of Carla.

Texas Levee Breaks, 1,000 Homes Flooded

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The Civil Defense on its emergency network said today that a levee broke at Taylor Bayou today and said 1,000 homes have been flooded here.

Much of Galveston still was under water when the tornado—some called it a waterspout, a similar weather phenomenon—struck before dawn.

The tornado struck the courthouse, where 1,200 refugees huddled, and injured many with flying glass. A hole was torn in the courthouse.

One of the Galveston tornado victims was Mrs. Marie Harris, 57.

The main center of Carla by the time the twister struck was 20 miles north of Austin, or 170 miles north of the point where it hit land Monday afternoon.

At 8 a.m. winds still were up to 75 miles an hour near the center, while at Lufkin, halfway across the state in East Texas, gusts of 100 m.p.h. were recorded.

Galveston's St. Mary's Catholic Cathedral and an adjoining school suffered extensive roof damage. Several houses were demolished and police estimated that 30 to 50 cars were wrecked.

The Weather Bureau called for hurricane warnings to remain displayed from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Morgan City, La., as Carla's winds and tides continued to rake the area.

Winds up to 55 m.p.h. extended 150 miles from Carla's center, the bureau said.

The bureau said dangerously high tides remained over the coastal areas affected by the storm.

The agency also said locally heavy rains up to eight inches could be expected and cause floods.

Victoria, Tex., inland from the coast, reported 13 inches of rain. Known dead as a result of the storm included Able D. Threeton, 56, of Houston, who was killed by a storm-cut power line Monday night; and a 4-week-old child killed by a Carla-spawned tornado in Louisiana Sunday night.

The Weather Bureau also issued a tornado forecast for one or more twisters in a 120-mile-wide sector centering on a line from Galveston northward all the way across

Time Shift Set At Wellsville Schools Oct. 2

Board To Change But City To Remain On DST To Oct. 29

The Wellsville school system will return to standard time Monday, Oct. 2, although all outside activities such as football games will be operated under Daylight Saving Time, according to action taken by the Board of Education Monday night.

The action follows the program the board has followed for the past five or six years. The city will continue to operate under DST until midnight Oct. 29.

This means the children will be going to school under one time, while their homes will follow another, for a total of 20 school days.

In taking the action, board members pointed out the danger to small children walking along the streets during the early morning hours and waiting along the highways in the rural sections for school buses.

The early morning darkness along with heavy fog creates a hazard, members pointed out.

In other action, the board hired Hugh Brian as a high school English teacher and heard a report from Supt. S. E. Daw on the use of a language laboratory. Brian, a graduate of St. Frances College, also will serve as sponsor of the class yearbook.

Daw said he had checked with the Electronics Products & Equipment Co. of Cleveland and the Dictaphone Co. on prices and operation of their units.

The Cleveland firm offered an operating console and six booth units for $1,860 or $2,520 if the console is large enough for an entire class while the Dictaphone firm bid $1,994.76 for a console and six booths.

By use of the electronic equipment, the teacher can direct special work to class members by using records or tape recordings. Daw said he would make a recommendation after he studies the operations further. If purchased, the units are covered by a federal government program whereby the school is reimbursed 50 per cent of the cost.

Daw reported the enrollment for the year is about the same as last year. He said the seventh and eighth grade classes are heavy. He also reported 50 in the

Strike Spread Seen

UAW, GM Reach Accord On Issue

DETROIT (AP)—The issue that triggered a snowballing plant-by-plant strike against General Motors Corp. by the United Auto Workers Union was settled overnight.

When agreement came, 92 GM plants were shut across the nation and 255,005 men were idle, with indications that the remainder of GM's 129 plants and 350,000 production workers would be idled in a matter of days, if not hours.

The No. 1 issue on which local-level strikes started erupting Monday was the amount of relief time afforded assembly and production line workers.

An all-night bargaining session Sunday failed to resolve the dispute and carried new contract negotiations past Monday's 10 a. m. strike deadline.

But within four hours after a fresh start Monday night agreement was reached on a formula reportedly suggested by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted settlement of the relief time issue would materially speed wrapping up of a new three-year contract between his union and the world's largest automaker.

May Have Reopened Issue

Ike Declares He Didn't Map Cuba Invasion Plan

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower may have started a new round of post mortems on the Cuban invasion by declaring that his outgoing administration had not drawn up an invasion plan.

Ever since the invasion was crushed at the Bay of Pigs last spring, it has been reported that President Kennedy inherited a detailed invasion plan with many armed units poised throughout the Caribbean area. All that remained for Kennedy, these reports said, was to give the go ahead signal.

But Eisenhower told a group of 38 freshman Republican congressmen Monday, "We had done nothing except to recognize that these Cuban refugees had a great desire to go back to Cuba, so we began organizing them and giving them weapons and training them. But beyond that we could not go, because at that time there was no recognized leader among the (refugee) Cubans."

He added, "I was not a consultant or adviser to the (Kennedy) administration in any way, of course."

A reporter went back to the question later, and Eisenhower amplified, "In March, 1960, we had a little meeting in my office as to whether to go ahead and train these people. We set up a little group to keep in touch. It was never any more than that."

The Central Intelligence Agency has been widely credited, without contradiction, with starting to line up the ill-fated invasion as much as a year before the landing.

Officials Set To Confer On Raid Charges

Printing Concern's Case May Be Aired By Grand Jurors

Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy was slated to confer today with John Gleason, assistant attorney general, concerning filing of charges against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. which state officers raided last week and seized large quantities of alleged numbers slip books printed there.

McElroy and Gleason, along with County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and other officers, hit the Maple St. firm which the attorney general claimed was the third largest printer of "bug books" in the nation.

Brokaw has indicated he will present the case to the September Grand Jury, convening today, under the new state anti-gambling laws.

However, he is awaiting further information from McElroy concerning specific charges and data in relation to the case.

McElroy said Monday he plans early conferences with county officials on action to padlock the firm, owned by Martin and Isadore Sufirin of Pittsburgh. McElroy said the conference on padlock action with Brokaw probably will be set at the meeting today with Gleason.

A 15-member panel of Grand Jurors was selected this morning to begin study of indictments sought in criminal cases. It is expected to report by Friday.

Jury Finally Seated For Trial In Murder

BEAVER — A jury finally was picked this morning for the trial of Ezra Lowe, 31, of Aliquippa on a charge of murder.

A panel of 76 persons was called Monday and only 11 were picked as jurors since about 90 per cent expressed an objection to capital punishment.

The judge ordered the sheriff to bring in a special panel listed for emergencies.

Lowe is charged in the fatal shooting of Fred Wallace, 29, of Aliquippa, a former boxer, May 28.

Lowe is the father of six children.

3 Approved For Beaver Local Posts

Two newly-hired Beaver Local School District teachers and a new cook at Elkton School were approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The board approved hiring of Harry Criss of Route 7 as an industrial arts instructor at the high school and Lloyd Stockdale of East Liverpool as a science teacher at the Public School.

The board also employed Mrs. Veronice Wolski of West Point as a cook at Elkton, replacing Mrs. Elsie Huston who was granted a leave of absence.

The board also granted a leave, effective in December, for Harry West, English instructor at the high school who plans to complete work on a master's degree at Kent State University.

The board acknowledged a gift of $255 from the Beaver Rural Garden Club to pay for shrubbery to be installed about the high school.

Discussion was held on insurance for the new lighting system at the high school football field, and further information is to be supplied at the next meeting.

The board approved attendance of Howard Johnson of near Negley at the School for the Deaf at Youngstown.

Some minor bus transportation problems were reviewed, including inaccessibility of some areas to buses, and further study is to be made.

A request from a Church of Christ for use of the high school for a district youth conference banquet was discussed, and the board decided the event could be held at the Public School in order to reduce wear of the high school gymnasium floor.

Next meeting is slated Oct. 9.

New Waterford Aspirant Picked By Committee

The name of Eugene H. Walton, an employee of the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. at East Palestine, was certified today to the County Election Board as a candidate for the New Waterford Board of Trustees of Public Affairs, replacing Frank Colella, a candidate for re-election, who died suddenly Sept. 2.

Walton was named for the Nov. 7 ballot vacancy by a five-member nominating committee which Mr. Colella named on his nominating petition when filing for a new term. Under state law, the committee had the right to name a new candidate in the event of Mr. Colella's death.

The nominating committee was comprised of Joseph Taylor, Bert Keck, Lois Merriman, Jessie McCune and Esther Bretz.

Officials indicated Walton also will be named as interim appointee on the board, filling Mr. Colella's place until his successor is elected in November and qualifies.

The committee's certification will permit the Election Board to go ahead with printing of New Waterford ballots, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, pointed out. While awaiting a certification, it had instructed the printing contractor to hold up work on the village ballot.

Holy Name Society Plans Sports Events

Plans for a fall sports program were discussed at a meeting of the Holy Name Society of the St. Aloysius Catholic Church Monday night at the Parochial School.

Tad Diloreto will be in charge of the program.

Eddie Finney was elected secretary, succeeding Mentor McVey, who resigned.

The Rev. Fr. Carl A. Nicolay discussed a fall bazaar for the parish. Thomas Meadows, president, presided.

City Motorist Posts Bond On 3 Charges

Joseph J. Reese, 30, of East Liverpool R.D. 2 was cited on three traffic counts by Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens this morning at 2:40, and posted a total of $61.50 for a hearing Monday before Chester Mayor Roy Collins.

Reese posted $30.50 for improper registration, and $15.50 each for failure to halt for a traffic signal at Carolina Ave. and 2nd St. and speeding 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Will Spend $8 Billion

'Interconnection' Set By Power Companies

NEW YORK (Special) — The nation's investor-owned electric utility companies plan to spend approximately $8 billion for new power transmission facilities through 1970, it was reported Monday by Philip A. Fieger, president of the Edison Electric Institute and chairman and president of the Duquesne Light Co. of Pittsburgh.

With a present investment of $6.7 billion in transmission, the companies "have made great strides in interconnecting electric power plants throughout the country", Fieger said. "Nearly all the electric power systems east of the Rocky Mountains, including 100 companies in 32 states, are now interconnected. West of the Rockies, interconnected service has been a fact for several years — both in the Pacific Northwest and the Southwest."

Complete interconnection of the nation's power systems, the next step in the evolution of power supply in this country, is under way, he stated. "By 1970 we expect all the major power systems to be capable of operating on an interconnected basis throughout the United States."

AEP System Joins In Expansion Plans

CANTON (Special) — A blueprint for continuing growth in the next decade was unveiled today by the American Electric Power System.

It revealed plans for the operation by 1970 of a vast network of transmission lines totaling 15,000 miles to maintain the assured delivery of an abundance of electric power in the seven-state territory served by the AEP System. The Ohio Power Co. is part of the system.

A. N. Prentice, vice president and general manager of Ohio Power, disclosed that during the period 1961-70 the AEP System will build and place in operation an additional 4,500 miles of new transmission lines. He estimated that total expenditures for these lines, together with the substation and switching facilities required to operate and protect them, will approach a quarter-billion dollars.

"Ohio Power's share of this unprecedented transmission construction program will total 1,700 miles of new line at a cost of an estimated $82 million," Prentice said. "And this does not include additional thousands of miles of lower-voltage distribution lines and stations to be built during this same period and involving the expenditure of additional tens of millions of dollars," he added.

Church Men Set Wellsville Dinner

A kick-off dinner marking the beginning of the 1961-62 church year will be held Monday at 6 p.m. by the United Presbyterian Men's Organization at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville.

The Rev. Loren W. Fowler of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church at Canton will be guest speaker. His topic will be "The Place of Men in the Life of the Church."

One of the projects for the year is providing inspirational programs for the men, drawing speakers from professional and semi-professional men. The subjects will be related to the place men have in the life of the church.

Other projects include completing a full nine-month program and giving financial support to the organization on a national level.

The new officers, elected at the final meeting in the spring, are Jerry Russell, president; Emmett Pelley, vice president; William Ferguson, secretary, and Harry Myers, treasurer.

Georgetown Council To Join County Event

Georgetown Borough Council made plans Monday evening to be represented at a meeting Sept. 20 to form a Beaver County Boroughs Association.

Driver Cited After Truck Strikes Auto

The driver for a wholesale grocery firm was cited by police Monday noon after his truck crashed into the rear of a Calcutta area woman's car halted behind a stopped school bus on St. Clair Ave.

Richard Lee Scott, 28, of 422 W. 5th St. was charged with failing to stop in the assured clear distance after his Riggs Co. truck was involved in the rear-end collision with a stopped 1961 sedan operated by Mrs. Eula J. Holt, 41, of Berkshire Rd.

Scott was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. Since the mishap involved a school bus indirectly, the judge lectured Scott on inattention while driving. He told the trucker his operator's permit will be suspended if he appears again on a traffic citation.

Scott told police he was following Mrs. Holt's car and as he got closer to it realized that she had stopped behind the school bus which was discharging passengers.

He said he applied his brakes and attempted to turn off St. Clair, but was unable to avoid the crash.

Witnesses to the accident were Mrs. Walter Simms, 2738 St. Clair Ave. and Linda Ronshausen, 17, of 3160 Watterson Ave.

Cars operated by two women drivers were damaged in a collision early yesterday afternoon at E. 4th and Washington Sts.

The collision involved cars operated by Gladys M. Means, 37, of the Y. & O. Rd., headed south on Washington St., and Mrs. Edna Jones, 45, of 1997 Lisbon St., who was traveling east.

Police listed Joseph Kittle, 1038 Edgewood Ave., and Delbert Patterson of Toronto R.D. 2 as witnesses to the mishap.

Meanwhile, Ray W. Pennybaker, 36, of Calcutta told police his auto was damaged early today on St. Clair Ave., apparently as the result of striking a parked car.

Pennybaker said he was driving north on St. Clair when he heard a bump. Since he could not see anything which he had hit, he proceeded to his home, he related. Then he discovered the right side of his car was scratched, evidently as a result of striking the side of a parked auto, he said. Pennybaker reported the mishap to headquarters at 6:15 this morning.

Moral Positions In Steel

Decision-makers in the steel industry have been studying a letter from the White House word by word, to see what they can learn about President Kennedy's thinking on higher price for their products.

Like the late Calvin Coolidge's cryptic comment on the preacher's position on sin, the gist of the White House letter on the prospect of rising steel prices can be summed up like this: He's against it.

But passages in the presidential letter reveal more about John F. Kennedy's thinking than the bare fact of his opposition to price increases for steel.

He points out that the industry has been absorbing increases in employment costs since 1958. If steel's decision-makers were now to forego a price increase, declares the President, the industry "would enter collective bargaining negotiations next year with a record of three and a half years of price stability. It would clearly then be the turn of the labor representatives to limit wage demands to a level consistent with continued price stability. The moral position of the steel industry next spring—and its claim to the support of public opinion—will be strengthened by the exercise of price restraint now."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in this reasoning, tries to make it appear that forbearance by steel management now, when steel workers are about to cash in on an automatic increase provision in their current contract, would entitle the industry to union forbearance next year.

This shows astonishing naivete. The steel industry's past attempts to hold the line on prices have been coldly disregarded by union bargainers. They make no secret of their belief that they are interested only in as big a share as they can corner of the industry's productivity. They have shown no inclination to worry about inflation, or anything else, least of all the international balance of payments, which President Kennedy says he is worried about at this time.

THEY HAVE STUCK to what they call "bread-and-butter unionism," which means getting all they can get. This is the counterpart of the industry's own firm pursuit of profit-making and the government's pursuit of tax revenues.

There is no morality in these matters. If the steel industry holds the price line this year while its employees are claiming an automatic wage increase, that will cut no ice in 1962 contract negotiations.

The industry's "moral position" of 1961 will have no bearing on negotiations in 1962—and decision-makers in the steel industry must have been astonished to run across such an idea on White House stationery.

Have You Joined In The Appeal?

Have you written yet to your legislators in Washington asking their help in protection for the ceramic industry? If not, there's no time like the present.

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters is sparking a drive during the month of September in a new effort to obtain higher tariffs or a quota system to assist the industry in its battle against the inroads of foreign competition.

The IBOP is directing its appeal primarily to union members. The campaign could go even further. Anyone who resides in a community which has a pottery or related industry should join in the attack. The more the merrier and the greater the possibility that some help may be forthcoming.

The story of the industry is widely known in the district—plants closing, work falling off in most cases and an over-all critical situation.

As the IBOP points out, your letters or telegrams needn't be long. Just to the point! Depending on your place of residence, your appeals for greater tariff protection should be addressed to the following: Ohio — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th district; Sen. Frank

J. Lausche and Sen. Stephen M. Young; West Virginia, Rep. Arch A. Moore, Jr., 1st District, and Sen. Jennings Randolph and Sen. Robert C. Byrd; Pennsylvania, Rep. Frank M. Clark, 25th District, and Sen. Hugh Scott and Sen. Joseph S. Clark.

Appeals to representatives should be addressed to House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C., and to senators to Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

A Helping Hand

Kind deeds always have a welcome place in the hustle and bustle of everyday living.

Therefore, a "well done" to members of the East Liverpool Lions Club who saw to it that a blind hitch-hiker returned to his home in Texas by bus instead of being turned loose on the highway with but five cents in his pocket.

We don't know whether the eyes of Texas ever will be upon us, but we do know there is one resident of the Lone Star State who won't forget the generosity and kindness of a local service club.

Enough Medicine On The Shelf

The biggest piece of unfinished business when Congress goes home this fall will be railroad legislation.

Yet, there are no less than 48 railroad bills before the House of Representatives and the Senate, all designed to help railroads with their problems.

All the medical supplies the railroads need have been lined up on the shelf, out of reach. For all present purposes, the supplies might as well be on the moon.

Is it not curious that the railroad industry feels, nevertheless, that it is making solid progress? The reason for this feeling is evidence of the industry's desperation.

Railroads feel they have a firm legislative approach. There is at least one reasonably good proposal to cover each of their major problems. Some of the problems have been tackled in many different bills in the House and Senate. All they need is action.

THESE ARE the railroad industry's legislative goals:

Quicker tax writeoff for new investment; Repeal of 10 per cent excise tax on travel;

No more discriminatory property taxes at state and local levels;

Legalize the railroads' right to diversify operations;

Either abolish favoritism for trucks and barge lines in certain classifications, or give the same favoritism to railroads;

Create a method for collecting fees for commercial use of tax-built facilities, such as barge lines and airlines.

Make it impossible for public authority to deprive users of benefits of low-cost transportation by misuse of rate regulation.

WHAT RAILROADS seek is the right to survive. They do not want loads of hand-outs. They want freedom from discrimination in regulation, taxation and competition plus the freedom to diversify their own operation.

This would not mean freedom from regulation.

It would mean equality of regulation.

It would mean, in practice, that railroads either would be treated like their competitors, which would be the best break railroads could hope for, or that their competitors would be treated like the railroads. That would be the worst break the public could get.

In fact, railroads have been over-regulated, overtaxed and overhamstrung, with the eager assistance in recent years of the aviation, truck, bus and barge industries. Railroads couldn't conscientiously want their competitors to be shoved to the wall by government, the way they've been shoved.

By H. I. Phillips

"SHE MADE HER DEBUT in a play called 'The Fortune Hunter.'" says news item about death of Anna Davis. This carries somehow an implication that it was just another play. But "The Fortune Hunter," by Winchell Smith, was a long run comedy and, believe it or not, the light male lead was played by John Barrymore, long before he had ambitions as a serious player.

Kenneth Roberts, speaking of the old-time autos, asks if we remember the Peerless, Regal, Liberty, Pope-Harford, Paige, HCS, and Willys-Knight? He says there was never a Chalmers Jackrabbit. It was an Apperson.

We just saw a motor boat with name "Mom's Mink" on it. So that's where it went!

Most amusing headline mixup of year occurred in New York Times the other day when "Kennedy Salutes Theatrical Group" appeared over story of a restaurant, while "Roadhouse Offers Sizzling Fare" appeared over story of a presidential telegram.

Youth swam around Staten Island. That's what we call a genuine revolt against ferry-boat musicians.

The highest purse a professional athlete ever received for a single performance was collected by former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney in his second fight against Jack Dempsey in Chicago on September 22, 1927. For those 30 minutes of fighting, Tunney received $900,000.

Brazilian Labor Saves The Day

By Victor Riesel

Time is now for bluntness. It is not right to know only who our enemies are. It is not right to treat with them while ignoring our friends who put their life and guts on the firing line. Look far south of the border.

There, the friendship of hundreds of union chiefs and millions of workers—as well as sections of the armed forces—kept Brazil's vastness from being Castro-ized.

Twice in the past two weeks—though it has gone unnoticed here—secret Communist labor cadres, working with Joao "Jango" Goulart, tried to launch paralyzing general strikes. Twice Brazil's democratic labor movement stood off the Communists and their jet-travelers.

Twice the Goulart secret calls for mass walkouts fizzled. Twice only a handful of dockworkers in the port of Santos and a few suburban commuter trainmen answered the call. But 800 union leaders and their four million followers stayed on the job.

If they had not, Goulart, friend of N.S. Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung, would have won immediately. The army could not have kept the nation operating.

OUR LAND owes much to the various Brazilian Confederations of Labor (they do not have a central AFL-CIO type of organization).

Let's pick this story up at a moment last March when the then President Janio Quadros accused "Jango" Goulart of being a crook and of mismanaging retirement funds.

There was talk of impeaching "Jango". Suddenly, all went quiet on the Brazilian front. But not before Jango had threatened defiance and had warned he would stir the unions into strikes and wild street action.

Many believed Jango could do this. In the previous regime Jango had been vice president, but he also operated out of a top floor office in the Ministry of Labor. He was the Ministry's virtual boss. He therefore wielded power not quite understood by many Americans.

As the power in the labor ministry he controled the various pension and welfare funds on which the unions depended.

With this power he bullied the labor people. He put Communists in office. He controled the labor tribunals. Thus he could judge disputes and rule in favor of Communists.

He even helped to dump anti-Communists out of office and set up a Confederation of Airline and Maritime Transport for the Communists.

Thus when he threatened to call out the workers during his quarrel with Quadros, some thought he could disrupt the giant nation.

But, then came the sudden peace between the "Jan-Jans"—Quadros and Goulart issued a statement. Just as suddenly Quadros began wooing the Russians. Goulart soon was to go as his personal representative to Peiping.

THEN THE UNIONS revolted, on April 28, in Sao Paulo with open attacks on Quadros and Goulart. On May 14, the anti-Communists ran a mass demonstration in Rio's biggest stadium.

Finally came a national concentration of more than 800 Brazilian labor leaders in Sao Paulo on April 28, in Sao Paulo with open attacks on Quadros and Goulart. On May 14, the anti-Communists ran a mass demonstration in Rio's biggest stadium.

during the last week of July. Speaking for over four million unionized workers, they launched the "National Trade Union Committee for the Defense of Democracy."

They showed Quadros and Goulart they were free working people and that they loathed those who wooed the Soviets. They also sent 16 delegates to the Fifth Continental Congress of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers (ORIT) in Rio during the week of Aug. 20.

This federation of 20 million unionists, ranging from Canada to the Falkland Islands, has been bluntly outspoken. Among the U.S. delegates were the AFL-CIO's beloved Latin American specialist, Serafino Romauldi, and William Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer and second in command to George Meany at AFL-CIO headquarters.

At ORIT no one pulled any political punches, through Quadros was still president and love-the-Communists - and - hate - the U.S. was official Brazilian governmental policy.

OF CASTRO, the western hemisphere labor parley said, "The people of Cuba are now living under an undeniably cruel dictatorship." On East Berlin, ORIT accused the Russians of "suppressing any manifestation of liberty and maintaining the people in abject slavery."

At ORIT's opening, a tingling drama was played right on the speakers' stage. The delegates were greeted by Carlos Lacerda, governor of the Rio region (Guanabara). Lacerda is the man most responsible for driving out Quadros.

"We do not want," said Lacerda, "the hopes of the Brazilian people . . . to be gainsaid by a policy of capitulations to the Communist trend . . . If it is necessary to reaffirm our ideas in the streets, and fight in the streets, we shall not hesitate to fight to secure these achievements (democratic rights)."

Lacerda poured out his soul to those workers' leaders early in the day—Thursday, Aug. 24. Also he said he would resign so he could "hit the streets," as they say, and arouse the people.

They cheered him. But at 8 p.m. he had them in for a reception in his gubernatorial palace. Then he informed them he would not resign. The leaders said they were with him.

An hour later, he took to the airwaves. Quadros resigned. For once our friends hit N. S. Khrushchev with a hundred political megatons.

Some 15 years of cooperation with the Latin labor leaders, invitations to our land, help and understanding paid off. We appear to have won one at last.

Letters To The Editor

On Sept. 5, a letter was signed by a delegation from Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow praising the good work of the East Liverpool Township Trustees. Previously, this delegation had a petition to close the right of way of Valley Ave. This also was signed by the township trustees.

An article appeared in the Review "Funds Adopted for the Township." In other business, the trustees received a request from a delegation of residents of Valley Ave. in Dry Run Hollow that the avenue be officially opened.

Previously, another delegation requested the avenue be abandoned, but this was turned down by the Columbiana County commissioners.

The trustees informed the delegation they would refuse to take any action until all fences and buildings have been cleared from the right of way.

I wish to thank the Columbiana County commissioners for using a little sense, for not closing a dedicated 30-foot street and leaving a 20-foot alley opened.

The letter stated, "Their honesty and good work they have done and doing in our township roads." One signer has gone clear to the creek, with a two-stall garage, blocking the right of way of Valley Ave. He has gone as far back as he can go, closing the property of another residence, which borders Valley Ave. Now he is expanding on to Hudson St. to the tune of 13 feet.

I would like to know if the township has the authority to remove all personal and private property from the same, or do we have to have a court order? If anyone in the East Liverpool Township would care to check on the right of way, we have a map made by a private surveyor, paid by some of the residents of Valley Ave. and Price St. But, none paid toward finding the right of way that signed the letter praising the good work of the township trustees.

I also say "God bless our township trustees," but if they are elected again, "God save our roads," because they can't close the alley, and I think they have already counted the votes of Dry Run Hollow.

The mothers of the school children who have to use 9th St. and old Chestnut St. to get to school would like to take this opportunity to thank these men:

Mr. Laughlin, our councilman, for his advice.

Supt. Betts for coming to 9th St. and old Chestnut St. to see the muddy and unsafe condition of the area. Mr. Betts made the arrangements to improve conditions.

The road construction workers for making a slag walk for our children on 9th and old Chestnut Sts. and under the overpass which were very muddy. They also have agreed to watch for the children on their way to and from school when they are running the heavy equipment on old Chestnut St. For this we thank them very much.

The Police Department for the excellent job it has done in protecting our children while crossing 8th St. at the foot of old Chestnut. The children would have been unable to cross here if the police guard was not there.

We are grateful for the interest and concern all of these men have shown for our children and we are thankful for what has been done to make the way to school safer for them.

(Mrs. Antonette Buckley, Mrs. Ralph Sgro, Mrs. Dale Walter, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Mays and Mrs. Audrey Booth submitted the above letter.)

The selection of the bald eagle's likeness for the Great Seal of the United States was deemed appropriate because of the bird's wide American range and the fact that eagles symbolized power and courage.

The Kennedy Course

By David Lawrence

Steel Price Restrictions Seen Dangerous

The Kennedy administration has crossed the Rubicon. It has decided to make war on conservative economics and embark on a course of radical economics. It is ignoring the risk that it may plunge the country into more unemployment within the next 18 months and bring about perhaps the worst recession since the 1930's.

For President Kennedy has determined to put certain limits on business profits and the return on investments that stockholders have hitherto expected when putting their savings into private enterprise.

The net result could be the gradual collapse of the private-enterprise system in America and the beginning of that era of socialism which Nikita Khrushchev has predicted will inevitably lead to communism in another generation in the United States.

President Kennedy's crucial step came a few days ago when he openly threatened the steel industry with reprisals by government unless it agreed to forego any price increases at this time.

Mr. Kennedy vaguely promised that next year, when the unions ask for still higher wages, he would urge "moderation."

He didn't define the term but the entire business world noted that Mr. Kennedy significantly refused to ask the unions at this time to forego the additional wage increases scheduled for them at the end of this month under a contract signed early in 1960 after a long strike.

THE STEEL INDUSTRY thus far has absorbed a 10 per cent rise in labor costs since 1958 without a price increase. Fair play would seem to require that, since the steel industry has already absorbed this large increase in wages without a price rise, the least that Mr. Kennedy might have done was to ask labor to cancel its increase scheduled for Oct. 1 this year.

But the Kennedy administration has sitting in the Cabinet, as secretary of labor, the man who was general counsel of the biggest steel union in the country. Had there been a secretary of commerce in a Republican administration who had previously been a leader in the steel industry—either as president of a large company or as its principal negotiator just a few months earlier during a major strike—the howl that would have gone up about "conflict of interest" would have been heard from coast to coast.

Industry has no voice in the Kennedy cabinet. The secretary of commerce is afraid of his shadow and allowed himself to be influenced by the radicals in the administration when he ordered the virtual suppression of the Business Advisory Council which had existed for decades as a means of communication between business and the executive branch of the government.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY's procedure in writing a letter to 12

steel companies and in immediately making it public is the subject of sharp criticism.

He did not invite these steel executives to come to Washington beforehand to give their side of the issue. He took them by surprise as he issued his letter and threatened restrictive measures if they didn't obey.

This is one of the most surprising made in recent years and it is small wonder that it is being regarded as the beginning of a series of hostile acts to throttle American enterprise and to pave the way for nationalization or socialization of the larger industries in America.

Mr. Kennedy himself has never been regarded as a radical but he has surrounded himself with advisers who sincerely believe in government ownership. In giving their advice, they can hardly refrain from advocating a philosophy which could eventually mean the end of private capitalism in America.

Every one of these advisers hates communism and all that Mr. Khrushchev stands for but, as is the case in Britain with the Socialist Laborites who favor nationalization of industry, they don't always realize the ultimate consequences of current action.

Mr. Kennedy is not himself an economist. He finds himself lost in economic jargon and economic arguments and tends to follow what seems to him a plausible policy.

His economic advisers concede that it is a "most hazardous undertaking" to estimate future output and profits in steel, but they did it just the same and took no account of the need of different companies to buy new plant and equipment or to continue to earn a proper return on investors' money.

Instead, a blanket order was favored that would cut profit margins and let labor have its Oct. 1 increase just the same.

MEANWHILE, the Department of Justice is engaging in a crusade against large business enterprises by brandishing antitrust suits in their faces almost every day. It is interesting to note that the executives of the 12 companies which got the President's identical letter are virtually forbidden to discuss it with each other, since the subject is price making.

The steel companies could be hauled into court for price collusion if they as much as sat down together to discuss what kind of replies they should make as an industry.

Indeed, the future of all trade associations in America may well be in jeopardy if the Kennedy administration cries out "price fixing" every time business leaders go to an annual convention of their industry to discuss common problems, including threats coming from foreign competition.

The annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute had, for instance, long been scheduled for this week, but it was cancelled for fear that any meeting of steel executives at this time would be misunderstood. And all this happens in "free" America.

Why good drivers in Ohio are switching to Allstate Auto Insurance

1. They find that, year after year, Allstate policyholders have saved real folding money on their auto insurance. You can't buy better protection—so why pay more?

2. They like the Good Driver Plan which offers lower rates to drivers with accident-free records.

3. They want protection against cancellation of their liability insurance. After 90 days, new policyholders are given written assurance that their liability protection won't be cancelled just because of accidents . . . assurance for a full 5-year period from the date of their policy.

These benefits apply to private passenger autos, individually owned, or owned by husband and wife . . . but are not afforded to assigned risks.

No wonder Allstate writes more auto liability insurance than any other company in the world. Why don't you see or phone an Allstate Agent now

Board Acts On Teacher's Resignation

The resignation of Anthony L. LaNeve, 622 Grant St., Newell, a teacher in the system 18 years, was accepted by the Hancock County Board of Education at a meeting Monday night in New Cumberland.

LaNeve, who taught 17 years in Newell schools and last year at Chester, resigned to teach sixth grade at McKinley School in the East Liverpool system.

In other business, the board granted numerous requests of high school principals and hired one instructor, Mrs. Sarah Livingston, for Weirton Broadview.

Supt. Robert H. Hall said the board has learned that the State Board of School Finance approved its 1961-62 budget of $2,919,181 and the levy rates have been approved by the State Tax Commissioner.

Road Flasher To Be Sought At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A move to obtain a traffic flasher signal for Route 644 near a frozen custard stand was discussed at a meeting of Council Monday night.

Councilmen reviewed the traffic hazard at the site where cars pull in and out of the parking area at the stand, and Mayor Kenneth Leishman said he would confer with Gaylord Zellers, Ohio Highway Department's superintendent in Columbiana County, about state co-operation in providing a warning signal.

Council authorized the solicitor to prepare legislation concerning salary for persons hired to fill in vacation schedules of regular employees. Mayor Leishman said the regulation should be revised to permit regular full pay for temporary workers instead of the present pay.

The mayor reported Pete Growall, street supervisor, had requested repairs for the city truck, but action was delayed until mid-October.

The building committee was requested to investigate the possibility of installing a circulating pump for the heating system at the Village Hall in order to cut fuel costs.

On a motion by Councilman Orvel Tolson, Council approved a bond for the recently hired deputy marshal, Jay Carter.

Councilman Joe Knight reported a requested cleaning of a ditch on Lincoln St. has not been completed, and Growall was instructed to perform the work.

The street committee is to determine if a dead tree on Superior St. in the East End is on village property. A complaint had been received concerning the tree as a hazard.

Councilman Homer Barcus was absent.

C. W. Meadows, Ex-West Virginia Governor, Dies

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP)—Clarence W. Meadows, West Virginia's governor in the transition to peacetime after World War II, died here early today. He was 57.

Meadows, a resident of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., since the mid-1950s, died in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Hospital.

He entered the hospital last month after he was stricken by a heart ailment while he and Mrs. Meadows were visiting at the Clifton Forge home of her father, E. R. Massie Sr. As the ex-governor's condition worsened, it was complicated by a kidney ailment.

Meadows, a Democrat, took office in Charleston as West Virginia's 22nd governor on Jan. 15, 1945, not quite a month before his 41st birthday. His inauguration culminated a political climb during which he had served as state legislator, prosecuting attorney in his home county of Raleigh, state attorney general and circuit judge.

In his four years as governor, Meadows got along extremely well with the Legislature, even considering that it was controlled by his own party.

Meadows' survivors include Mrs. Meadows and four daughters.

Pancake Supper Set

LISBON — The Kiwanis Club's annual pancake and sausage supper will be held Thursday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Methodist Church dining hall. There will be no meeting of the club due to the supper.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married for 15 years to a man who has no bad habits and is a good father. The problem is I can't get a dollar out of him.

We own a four-family flat. Six years ago when our janitor and maintenance man quit I took over "temporarily."

Well! I'm still at it with no relief in sight. I'm a plumber's daughter so I know how to fix everything in that line. I can even fix the air conditioners and do a little carpenter work. I've papered and painted, varnished and laid linoleum when tenants have moved out so the flats would be rentable.

We have a vegetable garden in back and every year I put up 200 quarts of beets, tomatoes, carrots, dill pickles and asparagus. I do all this in addition to taking care of my own family, which numbers six. When I ask my husband for a few dollars to get a permanent wave or a new pair of shoes he says, "Wait till I die. You'll get everything." What can I do? — GETTING TIRED.

Dear Getting: Take on one more job — collect the rent. At the rate you're going, Lady.

Hookstown Auxiliary Confirms Donations

Donations of $50 and $16 for the recent banquet of the auxiliary of the South Side Athletic Club were acknowledged at a meeting Monday evening at the Hookstown American Legion home.

Mrs. Louise Wright, president, reported the Frankfort Springs district gave $50 and the Shippingport Mothers Club gave $16 while the Hookstown Grange donated use of its hall.

Mrs. Frances Finley, treasurer, reported a balance of $210.39. A discussion was held on a winter style show with plans to be reported later. Directors of each district will plan it.

Lunch was served by the Georgetown hostesses. Next meeting is Oct. 2 with Hookstown women hostesses.

Trumbull's Traffic Toll 50% Over 1960

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Trumbull County's 1961 traffic death toll is running 50 per cent ahead of 1960, with a total of 33 deaths to 22 last year.

Latest victim was Frank Pascarella Jr., 31, of Hubbard. He was killed Monday afternoon when a car in which he was riding on Ohio 7 near U.S. 62 missed a curve and overturned.

you'll die—and he'll get everything.

Unnecessary Handicap

Dear Ann: I'm a woman 30 years of age and I have no major problems. I'd be very grateful if you'd print this letter as a means of educating some of the bores in this world.

I happen to have a few rather large warts on my face. My doctor has told me that they are not dangerous from a health standpoint, so I just forget they are there — until some ignoramus makes a vulgar remark.

Will you please tell people that it is in the worst possible taste to make comments of this type? Thank you. — G.R.

Dear G. R.: It's your face—and you can grow anything on it you like but why in the world would an intelligent woman choose to go through life with warts on her face when a dermatologist can remove them in his office during her lunch hour?

Of course it's terribly rude to comment on the warts but very easily and at the same time improve your appearance. My earnest hope is that you will.

Church Rat

Dear Ann: I used to think well of your advice but no more. In your column you always advise people to make friends through clubs, organizations and, above all, church groups.

My daughter, Hester, was an avid fan. She took your advice and joined a church group and that's where she met this man. She devoted herself to him completely for 18 months. Then his wife showed up and threatened Hester with an alienation of affection suit. He had three children and a police record.

We were stunned. He seemed so respectable and decent. From now on you'd better think twice before you advise nice girls to meet men through church groups. A church offers an ideal front for scoundrels to hide behind.— STUNNED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Churches have rats, too, but that doesn't mean your daughter ought to go out with them.

No safeguard can match common sense and judgment. A girl who could go with a man for 18 months and not pick up a single clue to his double life must be less than bright.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The only team that came close was Beaver Local, which rallied to tie Leetonia, 14-14, in the late stages of the game. Five other district schools lost.

East Liverpool was the only team to be shut out, but it came at the hands of a powerful Niles team that may reign as the 1961 state football champion.

Sygar, Conrad Impressive . . .

THE BEST two backs we saw in the first round of football for the 1961 season were Rick Sygar, who scored three touchdowns for Niles, and Paul Conrad, Leetonia's elusive junior halfback, who kept Beaver Local in hot water all night.

The most fearsome lineman, and a sure bet for all-state honors, was Karl Singer, the 210-pound right tackle for Niles, who probably could handle one side of the line by himself.

TONY MASON, the Niles head football coach, an easy guy to get along with, claims that the reason for the size of his team is weightlifting. Each boy on the squad who took part in the program gained weight at a surprising rate over a period of one year.

THE EAST LIVERPOOL-Niles EL, Tiger Reserves To Meet . . .

WELLSVILLE and East Liverpool will renew grid relations Saturday night when the reserve teams from the two schools clash at Patterson Field.

Potter coach Bob H. edmond said he will use all sophomores in the game, playing an offensive and a defensive unit. East Liverpool has 27 sophomores on the squad this season.

MASSILLON and Niles, who will race each other for Ohio laurels this season, may see how many points they can score on an opponent since they don't meet in the regular season. Massillon got off to a pretty good start, registering a 50-6 victory over Newark.

Maris, Mantle Must Play Next 10 Contests On Road

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The magic number for Roger Maris is four. Make it seven for Mickey Mantle, add another for the New York Yankees' charmed digit, and that's the situation as the chase for Babe Ruth's home run record and the American League pennant resumes tonight.

After a one-day respite, the M&M homer hammerers move into Chicago with 10 games in an eight-day period remaining in which to tie or surpass the Bambino's home run record of 60 under the 154-decision allotment decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Maris, with 56 homers, is four games ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927, while Mantle, with 53, has fallen two behind for the showdown stretch—night games at Chicago tonight and Wednesday and a day tilt Thursday, a twi-nighter at Detroit Friday followed by day contests Saturday and Sunday, a twi-nighter at Baltimore Tuesday, and a night game Wednesday.

The Yankees, leading the runner-up Detroit Tigers by 11½ games, need any combination of eight wins or Detroit losses to wrap up their 11th pennant in the last 13 years and the first for rookie Manager Ralph Houk.

Maris, who has found White Sox pitching the easiest in his chase with Ruth—he has tagged 13 against Chicago hurlers—and Mantle will be hitting against lefty Billy Pierce (9-8), the only AL moundsmen to surrender two homers to Maris in one game. Ralph Terry (13-2) goes for New York.

Mantle, who has hit 29 homers

on the road to 24 at Yankee Stadium was looking forward to the road battles. But Maris, who has hit half away and half at home, expressed indifference to his surroundings.

The Yankees, riding a 12-game winning streak, and the Tigers sat it out Monday, maintaining the status quo at the top of the standings. In the only games played, Boston walloped Washington 14-4, and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

In the National League, Gordon Windhorn's pinch-hit homer in the inning gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia, and moved the Dodgers within 3½ games of idle, first-place Cincinnati.

San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in 10 innings and St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 4-1.

Windhorn's Pinch Homer Ends Game

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gordon Windhorn led off the 11th inning with a pinch-hit home run that gave Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia Monday night and moved the second-place Dodgers within 3½ games of the National League leading Cincinnati Reds, who were idle.

Windhorn's game-winner broke the Dodgers' three-game losing streak, kept them only one game back in the lost column that has become the key to their hopes of overtaking Cincinnati and ended a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese.

Ferrarese had hurled seven innings of no-hit relief and stretched his shutout string to 22 innings when Windhorn, brought up from Omaha in mid-season, whacked his first major league homer and fourth hit in 16 at bats.

Fourth-place San Francisco gained ground on third-place Milwaukee by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 10 innings on Felipe Alou's homer while the Braves were losing 4-1 to St. Louis.

In the only American League games, Boston mauled Washington 14-4 and Minnesota beat Los Angeles 5-2.

The Phils, trailing 5-1 after three innings, rocked starter Johnny Podres in the fourth for three runs on Lee Walls second homer of the night and Bob Malmkus' two-run single after the Dodger left-hander had filled the bases on walks. Charlie Smith's home run in the seventh tied it.

Ron Perranoski, (7-5), third Los Angeles pitcher, picked up the win, blanking the Phils for four innings before the Dodgers finally got to Ferrarese (4-10).

Jack Sanford (11-8) went all the way for the Giants, keeping the bases clear of Pirates by retiring the last 15 men he faced after Dick Stuart tagged him for homer No. 27 and tied it 3-3 in the sixth. Alou was the first man reliever Elroy Face (6-9) pitched to when he came on for starter in McBean, who left for a pinch hitter.

Larry Jackson (13-9) checked the Braves on six hits and now has won five in succession and 10 of 11 decision since Johnny Keane replaced Solly Hemus as Cardinal manager in July. The Cards clinched it in the sixth against Lew Burdette (16-10) when Ken Boyer and Stan Musial, both 3-for-4, singled and scored on Carl Sawatski's pinch-hit single after a walk loaded the bases.

Rookie's Homer Slices Reds Lead To 3½ Games

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The desperate Dodgers have one foot in the door instead of the grave today because rookie Gordon Windhorn called his shot and delivered the first home run of his major league career.

The 11th-inning drive into the Coliseum's left-field seats brought Los Angeles a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia Monday night and, in an instant, reduced a brilliant pitching performance by Don Ferrarese to wreckage.

It also cut idle Cincinnati's lead over the second-place Dodgers to 3½ games.

Ferrarese had pitched seven innings in relief without allowing a hit and had a 1-and-2 count on

Windhorn when the Dodger outfielder-hit his homer.

Dodger infielder Daryl Spencer said Windhorn told him before leaving the dugout and going to bat:

"I'm going to hit one out of here and win this game."

Windhorn has had only 16 at-bats for the Dodgers all season. "He hasn't been in many games," said Manager Walt Alton, "but he's already won for us."

Alton readily acknowledged the Dodgers have a considerable piece of ground to cover. They have 18 games to play and Cincinnati has 13. If the Reds play at about their present pace and win 8 of the 13, the Dodgers will have to win 14 of 18 just to gain a tie.

Reds Face Old Jinxes Tonight Against Cubs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The league-leading Cincinnati Reds face one of their most galling jinxes in the National League tonight—the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs may be in seventh place, but for the Reds—with the pennant in sight — they're pure poison.

The Reds have won only seven games from the Cubs—the last one late in July—while Chicago has pounded out 13 victories over Cincinnati.

The teams meet once more this year, Sept. 26 in Chicago. A decision on the pennant winner could go that far.

However, if the Reds divide their last 13 games 7-6, the second place Los Angeles Dodgers would have to take 14 of their remaining 19 contests for even a tie.

Jim O'Toole, the southpaw from Chicago who developed into one of the Reds' most useful pitchers in the past month, has the assignment of holding the Cubs in check tonight.

Dick Ellsworth is his opponent.

U.S. To Face India Netters In Davis Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Davis Cup brass stopped worrying about Australia and Italy today and turned their attention to India, a more immediate problem.

The United States must meet India, winner of the Eastern Zone, in New Delhi, probably on Sept. 29-30-Oct. 1 for the right to go against European Zone champion Italy Oct. 13-15.

Down through the years, when the United States has not held the cup, shooting past the Eastern Zone winner was regarded as a mere formality en route to the challenge round.

But conditions have changed. The United States wanted to play India on clay in Houston, Tex. India wanted New Delhi. So under Davis Cup rules, the problem was placed in the hands of the reigning champion, Australia. A toss of a coin was made and India won.

The United States wanted to play on clay because Tut Bartzan, America's No. 2 player, is at his best on hard surfaces. U.S. cup Capt. David Freed now is faced with the task of getting together a team that not only is capable but available. Chuck McKinley, his No. 1 player, isn't sure he can get away from his studies at Trinity College (Tex.).

Dennis Ralston, No. 2, is under suspension until Jan. 1. Don Dell, Whitney Reed and Jon Douglas are possibilities for the squad.

Amateur Golf Champ Almost Upset Victim

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Defending champion Deane Beman skidded through his opening test only to run into tougher Billy Joe Patton today in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Beman, 23, insurance man from Arlington, Va., narrowly missed becoming No. 1 upset victim of this event before turning back Harry Allers, 21, of Lake Wales, Fla., 1-up on the tricky and treacherous Pebble Beach course.

Happy-go-lucky Patton of Morganton, N.C., playing in his 11th U.S. Amateur, drew a bye and watched the first-round action over the par 36-36-72 course on the edge of the Pacific Ocean.

Beman led 4-up at the end of nine holes but the lead was cut to one by the end of the 14th after he ran into troubles and began spraying tee shots. If Allers hadn't missed an 18-inch putt at the 11th, the match could have gone into extra holes.

Seventy-two first-round winners joined 56 who had byes to make up today's second round of 128.

Failing to reach it were John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex., and Charles Lewis of Little Rock, Ark. both semifinalists last year; Bill Hyndman, the Walker Cup player from Philadelphia; and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., three times a Walker Cup competitor.

Farquhar fell before Dick Lotz, 18, of San Lorenzo, Calif., 3 and 1, while Campbell was eliminated by Andy Gard, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., 1-up. Hyndman lost 1 up to Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif.

Today Lotz goes against C. A. Smith III of Jackson, Mich., who advanced via bye. Gard faces Dud Wysong, Jr., of McKenney, Tex., who also didn't play Monday, while Davies goes against Harton Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a 5 and 4 victor over Pandell Savic of Columbus, Ohio.

Ex-champions Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio State husky who won the 1959 title as a 19-year-old, and two-time winner Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City see their first action today. Nicklaus faces Dr. Donald Krieger of Portland, Ore. Coe, champion in 1949 and 1958, meets John Nichols of Downey, Calif.

Ex-champs advancing via victories were Harvie Ward of San Francisco, downing Vanderbilt student George Creagh 5 and 4, and Congressman Jack Westland of Everett, Wash., who beat Canadian Keith Alexander by the same margin.

Chick Evans, 71, Chicago veteran playing his 49th national tournament and winner in 1916 and 1920, lost his match 5 and 4 to former University of Illinois football and golf star, Jim McCarthy.

Wilson Madden of Elyria, Ohio, survived his first round match with a 4 and 3 victory over Michael Bosers of Spokane, Wash.

Girl, 6, Hurt In School Bus Mishap, 'Poor'

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A 6-year-old Licking County girl injured in a school bus accident north of here was reported in poor condition with a brain injury in Columbus' Children's Hospital today.

The girl, Jeanne Atherton of St. Louisville, was injured Monday when a county road shoulder crumbled and the bus overturned.

The girl was transferred from Newark Hospital to Children's Monday afternoon when it was learned her injury was serious.

It was first reported that none of the children were injured seriously.

Another passenger, Barbara Lambert, 9, also of St. Louisville, was in Newark Hospital in good condition today.

Twelve other children were treated for minor injuries.

The bus driver, Ronald Learn, said he was proceeding along a narrow road four miles north of here when the shoulder gave way.

The highway patrol is investigating the accident.

Jeanne and Barbara are pupils of Eden Elementary School.

Browns Must Cut 2 Today For 36 Limit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two players were due to be cut today, bringing the Cleveland Browns roster within the National Football League limit of 36.

Halfback Billy Gault was a good bet to be one of the dismissed players. The rookie from Texas Christian has been facing rough competition in the defensive backfield where five players are back from last season.

The other cut appeared likely at offensive tackle, where Mike McCormack, Dick Schafrath, Lou Groza, Jim Marshall and Ed Nutting have been vying for the job. Marshall and Nutting lack experience.

The Browns learned Monday that end Rich Kreitling's injury in a collision with a field official in the Detroit game Saturday was not serious. Kreitling suffered a bruise and should be ready to play in the season opener against the Philadelphia Eagles Saturday.

The Browns finished the exhibition campaign with a scoring average of 24.6 points a game, compared with an average of 30 per game last season.

Two Golfers Elected To Hall Of Fame

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Lawson Little and Henry Picard, golf greats of pre-World War II days, have been elected to the PGA Hall of Fame in a nationwide poll of professional golfers.

Little, 52, perhaps the game's top amateur match player received 482 votes. Picard, 55, pro at the Canterbury Golf Club, Cleveland, Ohio, got 431.

Other high on the list in the balloting included Johnny Farrell, 416 votes; Bobby Cruickshank, 341; John Revolta, 279; Olin Dutra, 277; Ed Dudley, 248; Billy Burke, 208; and Joe Kirkwood Sr., 135.

PGA President Lou Strong, in announcing the outcome of the voting, said Little and Picard would be inducted formally into the Hall of Fame Nov. 7.

Little, now retired and living at Pebble Beach, Calif., won the U.S. and British Amateur championships in 1934 and 1935. He won 32 consecutive match play victories during the mid-1930s. He turned pro in 1936 and four years later defeated Gene Sarazen in a playoff for the U.S. Open.

Picard won the PGA Championship in 1939 and finished as runner-up on two occasions. He won the Masters Championship in 1938 and led all money winners on the PGA tour the next year. He also finished as runner-up for money winning honors in 1935 and 1937. He was a Ryder Cup team member three times.

'Sing Along' Versus 'The Untouchables'

Is it true what they say about the horror of TV violence?

The viewing public, for whose welfare Federal Communications Commission Chairman Minnow has been playing a carping game, will be presented with a supreme opportunity to impale the popular belief that while everybody condemns violence, everybody supports violence on TV.

Marie Torre

This unwholesome notion has been bolstered by the unprecedented record of TV's No. 1 perpetrator of murder and mayhem, "The Untouchables," which last season scuttled its civilized and cultivated opponent, "CBS Reports," to no-man's land in the ratings.

Some of the best people reasoned that viewers do not want to be educated but entertained after a hard Thursday at the shop.

MAYBE SO. And in the coming weeks viewers will be permitted to exercise this predilection for entertainment Thursday nights when they'll have the choice of looking in on "The Untouchables" or a program in which the men have songs instead of bullets in their hearts — "Sing Along With Mitch," that is.

In previous sing-dings, the Mitch Miller exercises drew such overwhelming approval, more than any other show in NBC's history, that the network decided it was the only program capable of penetrating the untouchable "Untouchables" this fall.

Will it be proved that the nation's viewers have been flocking to the highly fictionalized adventures of Eliot Ness because it's been the only "entertainment" around? Or will the public make a sham of the causes espoused by Newton Minnow and stay with "The Untouchables"?

ONLY THE FUTURE holds the answers, but Miller, for whatever it's worth, is betting on public preference for his kind of music rather than the cacophony of gun-slingers.

If he is correct in this assumption, it is unlikely that success will trigger a volley of imitations, as is so often the case in TV. Until now, no television interest has attempted to parrot the efforts of the bearded prophet of popular music.

Miller hardly emerges as a modest flower when he explains the uniqueness of the show.

"I've had no imitators on TV," he will tell you, "but my 'Sing Along' records have had at least 50 imitators. None made it, not even Bing Crosby."

"WHY? BECAUSE, first of all, ours is a deceiving simplicity. We choose music that has a perennial quality, the cream that has risen to the top, so to speak, and that also goes for present-day numbers like 'Hey, Look Me Over.' "Also, we play the right tempo, use easy-to-listen arrangements, and the right voice lead-ins so that the harmony goes naturally. Equally important, our male chorus has a virile quality that knocks women over and men like to see, and there isn't a word they sing that viewers can't understand.

"To put it simply, it's all a matter of knowing your music, and using it to give the audience a great listening experience."

IT'S MILLER'S educated opinion that other musical shows on TV have failed in this objective. We brought up the name of Lawrence Welk for an appraisal.

"The Welk show is all right for what it is," he answered, "A band being photographed. While it generates a kind of honest warmth, you have to be over 40 to like Welk."

"Perry Como? You'll find some good musical moments on his shows, but there are many changes in mood on the programs, meaning you might like one part and not another."

Nevertheless, if Miller manages to duplicate Como's and Welk's endurance records next season opposite "The Untouchables," he'll feel lucky but not surprised.

Slides Shown To Explorers

Wayne Wallace of Wellsville R. D., a guest, screened slides of Civil War battlefields in Kentucky and Tennessee at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Jim Monte of Commerce St., Wellsville.

Wallace elaborated on the battle at Franklin, Tenn., in which an important part was played by Gen. Riley and a brigade from Wellsville.

Harry R. Cline and Harry M. Cline displayed artifacts gathered during a recent trip to Flint Ridge. One was a hafted hoe fashioned from chalcedony — a translucent variety of quartz.

H. A. Dawson screened color slides of Indian sites that have been destroyed by industry. He showed scenes of Mingo Bottom, the home of the Mingo tribe.

Dawson, president, named Jim Woodrow and Richard S. Thompson, secretary, to the program committee. Various reports were heard.

These includes a report on a bulletin from the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, a preliminary report on a stratified site at Ohio View and another on the Buchanan Rock Shelter in Beaver County.

Thompson reported on the annual meeting of the Eastern States Archaeological Federation at Toronto, Canada.

Edward V. McMichael reported on archeology programs in West Virginia, pointing out the best known area is in the Upper Ohio Valley section.

The next meeting is Sept. 25 at 7 p. m. at the home of Dawson on Boring Ln.

$250 Loss Fixed In Garage Blaze

Loss was estimated at $250 Monday after fire damaged a section of a frame garage and destroyed some of the contents Sunday at 6:30 p. m. at the home of Robert Cline of Sherwood Ave.

The estimate was made by Homer Cronin, assistant chief of the Liverpool Township east department, which responded to the alarm with 13 men.

Cronin said the blaze apparently was started by a hot sun shining through a window and striking a gasoline-soaked cloth.

In addition to the damage to the building, the fire destroyed fishing equipment and a tennis racket, he said.

Meanwhile, members of the department were reminded the first in a 10-week series of classes will be held tonight from 7-10 at the station in LaCroft. Chief Robert Lewis will be instructor.

Plans were also made for five dinner-dances to be held during the winter. Purchase of an eagle emblem for the top of the post flag pole was approved.

St. Clair Group Will Confer With County On Sewer Study

A committee to confer with Columbiana County Commissioners concerning progress of a requested study of sanitary conditions in St. Clair Township was appointed at a meeting of the St. Clair Township Development Association Monday night.

Appointed to the committee were Dean Wilhelm, Calvert Bryan and Herb Thompson. The township group asked for action by the commissioners a number of months ago and has received no reply.

A letter was read from A. R. Todd Associates, a Wheeling engineering concern, which proposed a water and sewage survey for the township in line with improved health and sanitation facilities and future development of the area.

The group is to study the matter, and Todd may be asked to outline his proposal at a future meeting.

A letter was read from the Up-

Socialist Party, Anti-NATO Bloc, Gains In Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The ruling Labor party lost its majority in Parliament and the balance of power fell today to the new Socialist People's party which wants Norway to pull out of the Atlantic Alliance.

The Socialist People's party won only two seats in the 150-member chamber, but these were crucial. Results from Monday's national elections gave the Labor party 74 seats and the same total for the four parties of the non-Socialist opposition. The Laborites had 78 seats in the old Parliament.

The nation's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization did not appear in immediate danger since all major parties support it. It remains to be seen what might happen if the Socialist People's party demands concessions toward its anti-NATO policy in exchange for votes on a key domestic issue.

3 Hurt In Wreck In Clinton Area

Three persons, including a Hookstown area woman, received slight injuries when two cars collided Monday about 8:30 p. m. on a section of Route 30 under construction about 10 miles west of Clinton.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said that Mary D. Patricelli, 48, of Hookstown R. D. 1, one of the drivers, received a slight cut of the forehead. Her car received $200 damage.

Samuel Milberg, 49, of Pittsburgh, driver of the other car, received left arm and elbow abrasions, and his passenger, Gail Racklin, 18, of Schenectady, N. Y., a bruise of the hip. The three were not treated at a hospital, police said.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the Milberg car. Police said the Hookstown area woman was in a line of one-way traffic moving east and swung round and hit the Milberg car going the other direction.

Bombing Of Famed Pisa Tower Feared

PISA, Italy (AP)—Reports circulated in this central Italian city today that saboteurs might try to blow up the famed leaning tower of Pisa.

The rumors spread after a weekend of terrorist bombings in Rome and half a dozen other cities. Government officials blamed the bombings on German-speaking extremists seeking greater autonomy in South Tyrol.

City authorities in Pisa said they felt normal security measures around the leaning tower are adequate. The monument, a 14th century bell tower standing next to the Cathedral of Pisa, is constantly guarded by at least two policemen.
